

Children's Fall Harvest Festival

Local Twins Win 1st Prize

Charlita and Chareba Cardwell, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Cardwell, were 1st prize winners in the "Children's Fall Harvest Festival" held last week at Goler Metropolitan A.M.E. Zion Church.

The program was sponsored for Debra Wynecoff, a contestant in the "Miss Fashionetta" contest, by a subgroup of Phi Omega Chapter of Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority. The Fashionetta contest will be held November 11, at the Kenneth R. Williams Auditorium for the benefit of the Sorority's United Negro College Fund Drive.

Charlita & Charelia Cardwell

Carla M. Phillips, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Phillips and Sha-Lai L. Belcher, daughter of Mrs. Wanda Belcher were second and third place winners.

Other contestants and their parents are Alisa A. Dunlap, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Dunlap; Bernard Foster, Jr., Mr. & Mrs. Bernard Foster; Ayana Granderson, Mrs. Brenda Granderson; Cedric McCurry, Mr. & Mrs. Burkett McCurry and Tiffany Phillips, Mr. and Mrs. Michael Phillips.

The program consisted of a children's fashion show, with models ranging from one to 12-years-old. Music was provided by Tangela and Ingrid Ingram.

Sub-group members are Mary Andrews, Barbara Dula, Helen Hairston, Barbara Hepler, Ann Jones, Annette Morgan, Olivia Morgan, Virginia Newell and Dorothy Wynecoff.

Poetic

Dimensions

Azzie Wagner

Readers: You are absolutely the very best readers and supporters that any paper could ask for.

It was your many calls, prayers, cards, and other acts of kindness that made my time go and put me back on the road to recovery ... so a GREAT BIG I love you and I am filled to the brim with love and happiness for you -- par excelum -- PPPer!!

This week, from my personal "bits and Pieces" File I found a little thing for all of you in Chronicle-Land that I simply call ...

YOU

[Excerpt by Azzie Wagner c. 1975]

You are the very axis around which my life revolves --
 You are the one to whom I look and all my problems are solved --
 You are the very heartbeat that pulsates in my chest,
 You make me feel as safe and secure as baby robins in their nest

Waiting for the warmth and protection that only their mother can bring -- Sheltering them and loving them and making their tiny hearts sing!

You are the one that alleviated my hassles from day to day --
 You are the one that made it easier for me to look at the world and say,
 Thank you God for letting me - once again feel love -
 To once again smell the clean fresh air and appreciate the stars above."

You are the very inspiration for all I say and do --
 You are the ones that prevented my day from being miserable and blue.
 You are the readers who reached the innermost depths of my heart --
 You are the darling love-bug that put pain and suffering apart -
 Kissed it out of my life like the dawn, chasing the night away --
 And gave me a radiant sunrise that brightens every day.

You are the stars that twinkle and shine and smile in the night --
 You are the stamina within me that helps me win the fight --
 When ordeals and problems face me and cut my heart in two --
 Know that things will be ok and shine radiant, not blue!
 You are the readers that I believe in, you're my hopes, my ambitions, and dreams --
 As you can see, control this column it seems.

On the 12th of Never, I'll cherish your kindness
 Forever and a day.
 It was you who've made Poetic Dimensions LIVE --
 From inception until this day!

The Random now gets deep on ...
I CAN'T SEE THE SUN
 by Ransom M. Redmon

I can't see the sun for the clouds and
 The moon glows in the night no more!
 My eyes grow tired as they search in hopes of seeing you again.

Far apart from what is reality --
 For you even in death --
 The years whisper moments of not too long ago
 Remember the twinkle in your eye and how
 The words brought comfort to me like a quiet morning at sea.

Now that my vision is dimmer
 My mind be broader and bring me to rest with you --
 I can't see the sun for the clouds and
 The moon glows at night no more!

PARTING: Now isn't that SUPER emotionally heavy and a head bender!?! Until next week have a safe, but spooky Halloween!

★ Kermits ★
Hot Dog House
The All American Hot Dog
Winston-Salem, N.C.

Curb service, dairy bar, dining room,
 take-out orders.

a wide variety of delicious
 sandwiches and beverages,
 including milk shakes & pizza.

1/2 mile South of Bowman Gray Stadium.

Footlong Hot Dog, Only
 French Fries, 96<sup>c</sup>
 Small Drink
 expires Nov. 15, 1976

YOU'RE THE WINNER

ON

wtob 1380