Local Bishop In Coronation

Coronation service for Bishop D.R. Robinson was held Sunday December 26th at the Winston-Salem Convention Center. The Bishop marched in majestically, robed in black with attendants on his right and his left in Honor Guard of Bishop's Drill Team of New Hope Deliverance and Miracle Center behind him.

"All hail the power of Jesus' name" was sung by Brother Marion Martin. Scripture was read by Elder William Payne after which the audience stood and brought gifts to show their love and appreciation to an honored leader. When the audience was seated, the Bishop stood amid applause and praise to address the group. He spoke of how he is totally and completely led by the Spirit and that God chose him to lead his people and that his is a leadership of love.

He then christened and anointed his son Michael Robinson and dedicated his life to God.

The entire service was one of spiritual enlightenment and seemingly everyone left with a oneness of spirit -- and that of joy, peace, and love.

Sex Bias

hearing that Ms. Peyton and her attorney Jerry Paul had established a prima facie case of sex discrimination which would have to be rebutted by Whiting and the NCCU administration. Although requested by the committee to explain why he fired Ms. Peyton and did not fire Professor Bott, Whiting did not appear before the committee.

Leonard Robinson testified that in February 1976, new faculty tenure regulations were incorporated into the faculty handbook which was made effective March 1976. He said that all untenured faculty, those without permanent contracts were asked to sign new contracts. He said that both Bott and Peyton refused to sign the new contracts and that in June 1976 Bott filed suit against the University at which time the Attorney General of North Carolina was asked for advice. Robinson said the attorney general's office advised the NCCU administration to let Bott remain in his teaching position "since he had litigation pending."

Hearing mediator Roberta Botchwey said the committee would meet in early January to decide on a recommendation to the Chancellor.

Professor Peyton stated that she expects a recommendation of reinstatement with back pay. The Chancellor is not bound by the recommendation of the committee.
