

Jerri Jones
Malcom Mack

Edrissa Carson
Sessie Vickers

La Sonya Withers
Fernard Henry

"I'm a Girl Scout..."

I think being in touch with nature is the greatest. That's why I love hiking and back-packing. The mountains are my special favorite. Something I can share with my Girl Scout friends or enjoy by myself. It knocks me out to think that all of this is here for everybody. And it's free!

The cookie sale is coming... we're counting on you!

★ Girl Scouts will be taking orders in your community January 21 through February 7

WSSU-ECEC Presents

A Day In A Child's Life

by Azzie Wagner,
Social Editor

The Kenneth R. Williams Auditorium buzzed with excitement the past Sunday as the "six feet tall" proud parents of the Winston-Salem State University Early Childhood Education Center sponsored its annual culmination activity for the second annual Little Mr. and Miss Ram Contest.

The presentation, appropriately named "A Day In A Child's Life" featured everything from educational endeavors to vocational aspirations.

The "pint-sized" leaders of tomorrow held an audience spellbound with renditions of dance, (tapping and creative) musical selections (singing and 'mime') and to really top it off a fashion show featuring everything from swim wear to sleep wear.

Part I consisted of casual and sportswear and was narrated by Mrs. Laura Allen. Part II -- Church dress wear narrated by Mrs. Valerie Falls. The "swim wear" and "sleep wear" narrator was Mrs. Pat Smith and two tiny tots did a dazzling interpretive rendition of Boogie Fever! This segment even featured one lovely young model who donned a bikini and really looked so precious! Narrating the formal and party wear was Mrs. Marjorie Wilkins.

Dr. Virginia K. Newell, professor of math at the university, was the charming Mistress of Ceremonies. Mrs. Mary A. Duncan, of the UECEC staff, crowned Little Mr. and Miss Ram after which Ms. Sandra Amos presented each-contestant a certificate of recognition, compliments of the Aurora Club of the Sigma Gamma Rho Sorority, Inc.

To really put the winners and runners up in the royal splendor where they belonged, Dr. Golden B. Wall, Director of Student Teachers at WSSU, presented Sessie Vickers (Little Ms. Ram) and Edrissa Carson (Little Mr. Ram) with trophies. First runners-up La Sonya Withers and Fernard Henry were presented plaques and so were second runners up Jerri Jones and Malcolm Mack.

The contest this year was given and each contestant vied for a month on a 1977 calendar. According to amounts, winners "ruled" each month. Each month had a boy and girl winner, making it possible for over 24 youngsters to be winners.

Chairman of the program committee was Ms. Ernestine Walker assisted by Dr. Lelia Vickers, Mesdames Sylvia Sullivan, Nancy Adams, Deronda Kee, Katie Jones and Delean Hunter. Also offering the male strength necessary to cope with the snarls were Mr. John Sullivan (PTA Prexy) and Mr. Q.T. Wilkins (treasurer). The affair was simply splendid!

For all your insurance needs

Life -
Health - Hospital -
income protection -

Endowment
Retirement
Mortgage
Gro-pac

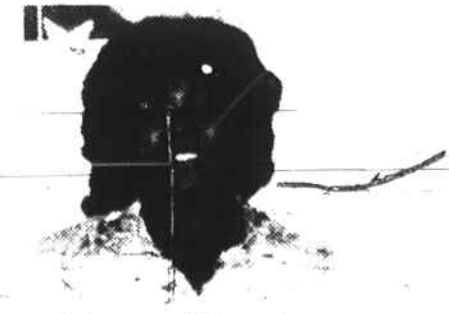

The Winston District Agency

Bertha Bohanan
722-3466

Jacob R. Reid
District Manager
722-3467

Mary Douthit
722-3466

Robert Hodge
722-3466

WINSTON MUTUAL
Life Insurance Company

Willie Nicholson
722-3466

Ruth Horne
722-3466

Beatrice Stafford
Clerk
722-3466

Aubrey Jackson

District Office
P.O. Box 998

1225 E. 5th St. Winston-Salem, N.C.

Phone 722-3466

● Be Sure To Buy Some Girl Scout

Cookies During Their Annual

Drive, Jan. 21st thru Feb. 7th.

SAMS

Clothing Company

534 N. Liberty St.