Mosque and Local Businesses Sponsor Sr. Citizens Dinner

Adrienne A. Zai'mah
Special to the Chronicle

The Combined Committees of Muhammad's Mosque #56, Fairness Committee and Creations Committee, along with several local businesses sponsored a "Senior Citizen's Dinner" here recently. The event took place at Reynolds Banquet Room.

Local businesses were contacted prior to the dinner and asked to make monetary contributions to sponsor the senior citizens to the dinner. The businesses were: Cherry Street Poodle Salon, Kermit's Hot House, Lakeside Insurance Agency, Linton's Cleaners, FairView Cleaners, Lakeside Shell Station, Pat's Barber Shop, Black Business League, Lincoln Barber, Experiment in Self-Reliance, Winston Mutual Insurance Co., Dr. F.W. Jackson, Kay's Cleaners, North Carolina Mutual Insurance, Jimmy's Food Store, Delight Barber Shop, Big "D" Lounge, Roseboro's Community Seafood, Mike Angelo, Burger King - William McGee, Inc., Jackie's Florist and Campbell's Barber Shop.

The program format consisted of moderator, Sis. Kathann El-Amin, songs by the local Sis. Clara Muhammad Elementary and Secondary School, remarks by the business representative Bro. George Furqon, guest speaker - Mrs. Janey Wilson who is president of Happy Hill Gardens - a local housing project, comments from Sis. Clara Saleem pioneer for Islam, responses from senior citizens and closing remarks from local Imam Irvin Shakir.

Janey Wilson

Sis. El-Amin opened her beginning remarks by saying "Our Chief Imam, the Hon. W.D. Muhammad has taught his followers repeatedly of the value of the respect of the elderly among us. You are our past, we are the present, should we fail to recognize you, we are failing to recognize ourselves."

She continued her remarks by saying that, "It's a wise society that recognizes the importance of it's Senior Citizens - for in them lies wisdom and life's experience."

She concluded her remarks by saying, "We must show appreciation for the many efforts and years of trials that you endured in order that we could see this day."

"Respect is yours by virtue of the fact that you showed the compassion, mercy and beneficence on our generation at a time when we were unable to care for ourselves. So tonight its our honor to give honor to you!"

The oldest two men senior citizens were Rev. W.H. Thomas, (84-years-old), and Robert Witherspoon (92 years of age.)

The oldest sisters were Mrs. Maline Britton and Mrs. Lonie Benton both 81 years of age. All are residents of Sunrise Towers, a local elderly home.

All of the elderly were given gifts by Muhammad's Mosque #56.

In mingling with the elderly we found that many had not been out of their apartments in months and remarked that they enjoyed themselves so much and had to start getting out.

We thank God for the knowledge we have today about respect and concern for our past, we recognize that we are the

YWCA Shows Documentary Film

A documentary film on the internal self-examination for women will be held at the YWCA, Glade Street, on Thursday, January 27, 7:30 p.m.

A discussion of the film will be led by Pat Carr, health educator for the Forsyth

County Health Department.

Ms. Carr will discuss: the internal gynecological exam, the purpose of the internal self-exam, and the importance of the self-exam.

The program is the second in a series of health education programs called "The Well Woman" offered by the YWCA.

A small admission fee will be charged. Those wishing to attend should pre-register by calling the YWCA 722-5138.

A Modern Jazz Dance Troupe will be formed at the YWCA.

Auditions will be held for interested teens on Saturday, January 22, 3:30 p.m.

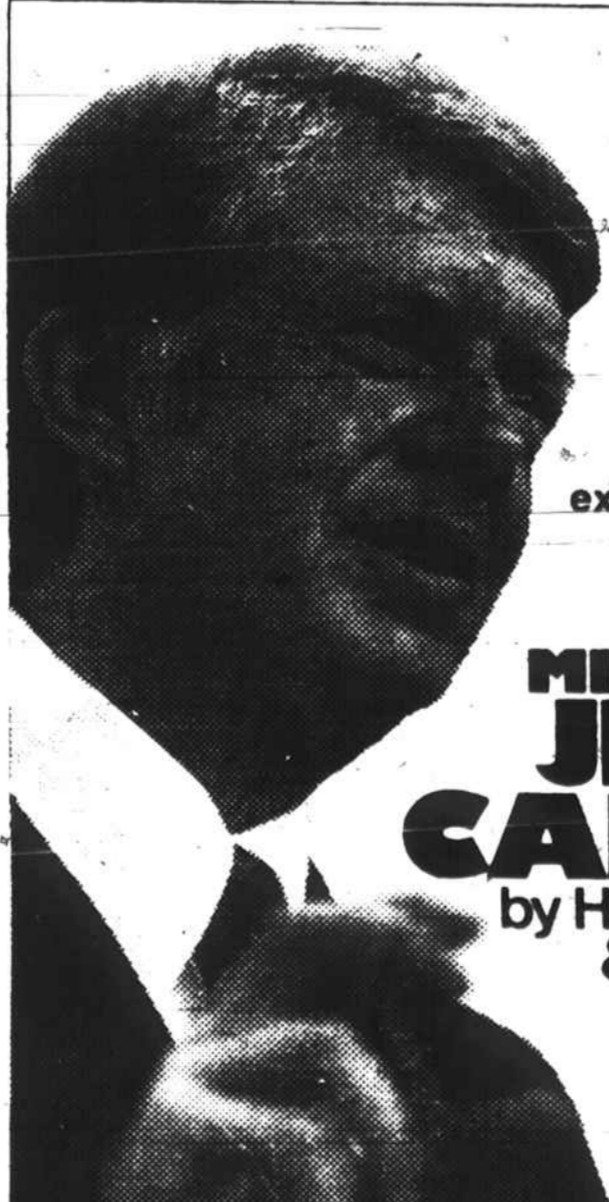

Instructor for the troupe will be Ella Mae Barnes. The group will meet at Glade Street.

For further information, call YWCA 722-5138.
