Intern Enjoys Working

said she really got excited over the press conference she attended, particularly one at City Hall and Winston-Salem State University. "I met various media people from different broadcasting stations and newspapers," she said,

"that was the best part."

The thing she liked most of all about her brief work experience? "Working with people dedicated to bringing current items of interest to the public," says Denise.

Like all reporters in the field, Denise had her problems too.

Sent on a high school story assignment, Denise met with a little opposition in trying to reach a source. She would not be denied so she tried another method to get her source. She was caught before she got half way, and escorted from the school. That experience however did not shake her because she finally ended up doing a couple of pretty nice stories.

Denise plans to go to the University of Georgia in the fall. The school, located in Athens, Georgia, has already accepted her. She plans to major in journalism. Whether she will stay in print media or decide to go into broadcast "is still a long way off."

Denise is the daughter of Ms. Artless Carter.
