

Evangeline G. Redding

Author Chides Black Experience

by Shedrick Adams
Special to the Chronicle

"Woman was created to do what Man won't do," Her name is Evangeline Grant Redding. She is the budding young writer of a new book entitled "Nothing: The Mentality of the Black Woman."

Mrs. Redding was in Winston-Salem recently for television appearances and to plug her new book which is at least revolutionary.

What are the thoughts behind the title, prose and poetry of Evangeline Grant Redding? Mrs. Redding startles us with the Poem entitled, "Joan Little, the bitch who got what she deserves" which is meant to give new and painful understanding of the black women's past and present.

On the subject of black man, Evangeline Redding believes that black women make excuses too much for black men. "We pamper black men too much, protect too much and I don't mean to castrate," She said the black woman must begin to invest as much into our man-child as we invest into the girl-child.

On the subject of children, Mrs. Redding says that our children are the most valuable, most incredible, most miraculous extension of us. She proposes children centers, temples of learning and information which may help to develop a central covenant: "A central covenant is one belief, one faith, because we all came here together."

"No species of woman has graced the world with more love, more beauty, more faith, more strength, and more hard work than has the black woman. Yet she's the most unspoiled ... the most unpampered ... the most unheralded ... the most raped ... the most unloved. With all her honorable past and all her phenomenal spirit, she is still considered nothing."

Dear Liz

'I Long For Affair'

Dear Liz,

I am a very broad-minded person. There's this man in my life. I really care a lot about. I know he doesn't know how I feel about him and I don't know how to bring myself to tell him the things I have on my mind. He has someone close to him and I also have someone close to me, but I am game if he's game to have a secret affair going on.

Longing

Dear Longing, Let the gentleman know exactly how you feel about him and suggest the secret affair. With you being so broad-minded, I'm sure you will not be disappointed if he does not want to play your little game.

World Concern for the Wilmington 10

(For Classroom and Group Discussion)

Third World Nations in Asia, Africa, South America and the Caribbean have voiced a concern for what they have felt to be flagrant injustice in the State of North Carolina. They have voiced their protest and condemnation of the intensified attack of racist and reactionary forces now concentrated in the State of North Carolina.

The most recent and flagrant example of this attack is represented in the cases of the "Wilmington 10" and the "Charlotte 3," and in response to the active support of their cause by liberation movements throughout the world. Individuals and organizations throughout the United States and the Third World have been asked to:

1. Write or wire the Governor of North Carolina demanding executive clemency to James Grant and the Charlotte 3.

2. Write or wire the Attorney-General of North Carolina demanding bail for the Wilmington 10.
