

Mrs. Essie Lennon

Mrs. Lennon At Beauticians Confab

Beautiful music, ballet, exotic foods, colorful costumes and decorations were the order of the day during the spectacular Annual International Tea sponsored by Winston-Salem Beauticians Chapter 2, from 4-6 p.m. last Sunday, at Emmanuel Baptist Church on Shalimar Drive. The Reverend S.W. Mack is pastor.

The program planning chairman was Mrs. Thelma Steen, and Mrs. Corinne Phillips was co-chairman. These prizes were announced:

First prize winner was Mrs. Essie Lennon for raising $244.00, the highest amount of money. A member of Emmanuel Baptist, Mrs. Lennon is also the reigning Mrs. Beautician of 1976-77. Second prize went to Mrs. Roxanna Pitts for the top-winning table arrangement on Africa. Mrs. Pitts was also awarded third prize for having the most invited guests at her table.

Mrs. Dorothy Aldridge introduced the narrator, and other program participants including Miss Deborah Thomas who received a standing ovation for her outstanding job as narrator of the history of the 13 countries. She ended by quoting Langston Hughes; the Reverend S.W. Mack who prayed; and Mrs. Essie Lennon who welcomed the audience. Vocal music was by Dr. June May who was accompanied by Mrs. Louise Foy at the piano. Edward Patterson played several piano numbers.

One of the highlights of the program was a ballet number by a youthful dancer from North Wilkesboro. Deneen Graham captivated the audience by her poise and talent during a ballet rendition. She was recently accepted at the N.C. School of Performing Arts. Mrs. Rosa L. Feemester made brief remarks.

Mrs. Corinne Phillips presided over the gala tea which featured beautifully-decorated tables representing the 13 countries on display. Beauticians were dressed to coincide with their respective nations. The tables contained large varieties of delectable foods in keeping with their themes.

A happy audience, representing all age groups, packed Emmanuel's new fellowship hall to witness the event. A large number of men attended.

Dear Liz

Teenager Has Parent Problem

Dear Liz,

I don't want you to answer this letter, just print it. I'll make sure my parents read your column and see if they want to give me a break.

I am sixteen years of age, an honor roll student, take care of my younger brother and sister, cook, clean house and any other things my parents ask me to do. I am never sassy to my parents. I believe and have been told by other parents that I am a model child. I really enjoy doing things for my parents because I know if it were not for them, I would not have been here. My problem is they don't enjoy me. If I am not always working, they say I am sorry and lazy. I know I am not sorry and lazy but it hurts so bad to have your parents feel this way after killing myself to make them happy. My parents both work and make good salaries. They don't have anything to do when they come home but eat and watch television.

They do not let me date. They say I am too young. This don't bother me because I know someday I will date, even if it is when I go away to college. I don't hate my parents for the things they do to me because I am taking this part of my life as a learning experience. My experience now will make me a very good wife and mother in later years because I will not pattern my life from them.

If you print this, thanks a lot.

Grown-up Teenager Dear Teenager,

Here is your letter. Thanks for writing. I know all parents wish their kids were like you.

Eat Well, Stay Cool With Molded Meat Salad

When the weather is especially warm, appetites often tend to dwindle. That's why it's important to serve wholesome foods at mealtime and foods that are cool and refreshing for light summer eating.

Orange Ham Ring Salad as a main course for lunch or dinner is sure to be a favorite with all. It's a molded dish made with ground ham and veal and requires only three simple steps—mix, bake and chill.

A hot vegetable, like freshly cooked corn on the cob is delicious with the salad. And mugs of cool, energy-giving Florida orange juice serve as a refreshing beverage to complement the citrus flavor in the meat salad.

- | | |
|---|--|
| 2 eggs | 1 can (6 ounces) Florida frozen concentrated orange juice, thawed, undiluted |
| 1/4 teaspoon hot pepper sauce | 1/2 cup water |
| 1 teaspoon dry mustard | Lettuce leaves |
| 2 cups dry bread crumbs | Raw vegetables and bacon curls to garnish |
| 1 pound (2 1/2 cups) ground cooked ham | |
| 1 pound (2 1/2 cups) ground cooked veal | |

Beat eggs in large bowl. Stir in pepper sauce and dry mustard. Add bread crumbs, ground ham, veal, undiluted concentrate and water; mix well. Press meat mixture into 6-cup ring mold. Bake in 350°F. oven 1 hour. Turn out onto serving platter. Cool. Garnish center with lettuce leaves, bacon curls, carrot curls, radish roses and orange slices. YIELD: 6 to 8 servings.

Great-grandchildren present were Rodney Wells, Carla Turner, Chuck Sample, Sheila Dawson, and Todd Sample.

Mrs. Victoria Carethers, Mr. Boyce Weaks' sister, was also on hand to participate in the celebration.

Other relatives and friends present were: Mrs. George Coleman, Mrs. Mary Hanner, Mrs. Evelena Clayborn, Mr. Charles Sample, Mr. Paul Dawson and Mrs. James Carrie Wilkes. Mr. James S. Davis, of Bridgeport, Connecticut was also a guest.

Surrounded by the stately trees which adorn the lawn of the daughter, Mr. Weaks and his guests feasted on a menu consisting of Baked ham, Bar-b-que and fried chicken, potatoe salad, coleslaw, baked beans, evergreen punch, rolls, ice cream (homemade), cake and strawberry pie.

A picnic followed which was enjoyed with Phi Teens invited as guest.

Black Poetry

My Lady's Departure
It's almost time my darlin'
For you once more to depart,
I do not know
For how long this time,
And with you goes my heart.

My lady, on your flight west
While you are gone,
I'll do my best
To keep occupied,
And the sadness I have
Try to hide,
Till once again
My darlin',
I can be by your side.
