

TV To Feature Girl Scouts - Wild Kingdom

Girl Scouts from around the country will be featured in a special television report on an upcoming episode of MUTUAL OF OMAHA'S WILD KINGDOM.

Actress Gloria Dean recalls her role of "Veronica" in a play she appears in with a Cleveland theatre group.

WSSU Alumnus Stars In Cleveland Play

Gloria Dean, a WSSU alumnus, will play the title role in "Veronica's Room," a drama production of the You Are A Cabaret Theatre in Cleveland, Ohio.

Mrs. Dean recently moved to Cleveland from Chicago, where she had a promising acting career, including some professional shows, radio commercials, and industrial films. When her husband, Richard Hyde, a district sales manager with Schlitz, was transferred to Cleveland, she wondered about opportunities to act.

She soon discovered that Cleveland boasts about 60 community theatres -- one of which gave her a role on the day she called to inquire about them.

Mrs. Dean, who also holds a Masters in learning disabilities, compared her two major interests, saying: "Acting and teaching have at least one thing in common. Both deal with building self-images. A child who doesn't feel good about himself may have trouble learning to read. As an actor I have to feel good about myself to be willing to share myself with an audience."

League/PTA Host Education Forum

How does the school board function? Who serves on the Citizens Advisory Council? What can an individual do as a volunteer?

Answers to these and other questions concerning our school system will be discussed at "Education -- Where Do I Fit In?" on February 23, 7:30 p.m., in the auditorium of the School Administration Building, 1605 Miller Street.

Participants will include Kay Shields, school volunteer coordinator; James Adams, Winston-Salem/Forsyth County superintendent of schools; Robert Severs, Federal Grants coordinator; Ray Bedsaul, Chairman of the Citizens Advisory Council; Violet Trexlar, president of the PTA Council; and James nance, coordinator of the School Community Act.

Also participating will be school board members Marvin Calloway, Betsy Sawyer, William Shepard, and Tom Womble.

The meeting is being co-sponsored by the Winston-Salem/Forsyth County PTA Council and the local League of Women Voters. The public is invited to attend and learn how they can affect their school system as well as their local schools.

Alderman Sets Monthly Meeting

Beginning Feb. 21, residents of the Southwest Ward will have the opportunity to meet with their alderman, Jack Cavanaugh, monthly to talk about anything they wish concerning City Government.

On that date, Cavanaugh will begin a series of neighborhood meetings to provide residents of the ward with "an informal means by which we can sit down and talk among ourselves about whatever needs to be discussed."

The meetings will be held regularly the third Tuesday of each month -- except June, July and August -- at 7:30 p.m. at different locations throughout the ward.

The Feb. 21 meeting is scheduled for the dining room of Knollwood Baptist Church.

"I certainly hope that anyone in the Southwest Ward will feel free to come to any or all the meetings," Cavanaugh said. The meetings will be spread throughout the entire ward so that there will be equal opportunities for everyone, but I certainly don't want any resident to feel restricted just because a meeting may not be in his particular neighborhood.

"These meetings are strictly come-as-you-are and informal. I hope that we'll have a good response each time we meet. The meetings may last as long as we need for them to, and I want everyone to feel at ease to drop in or to leave as desired. There will be no formal structure at all -- each citizen will come and speak, or just listen, as he sees fit. I'll have a city government staff person to accompany me to each meeting to answer any questions anyone desires, but I stress that these meetings are just good old-fashioned open discussions of whatever's on your mind," he said.

The schedule of meeting dates, places and staff resource people for the next four months is the following: Feb. 21; 7:30 p.m.; Knollwood Baptist Church dining room; Gary Brown, Evaluation Office. Mar. 21; 7:30 p.m.; Miller Park A and B room; Ken Kroohs, Planning Department. --Apr. 18; 7:30 p.m.; Bolton Elementary School Auditorium; Pat Swann, Public Works Department. May 16; 7:30 p.m.; Ardmore Elementary School Auditorium; Nick Jamison, Recreation Department.

The animals that have been rehabilitated here are taken to a Girl Scout camp 60 miles northeast of San Diego and released into their natural environment. MUTUAL OF OMAHA'S WILD KINGDOM photographers were fortunate to capture on film the dilemma a coyote experienced choosing between captivity and the new freedom within the sanctuary. Literally hundreds of animals, after being seriously injured or desperately ill, have been nursed back to health and released by the Girl Scouts.

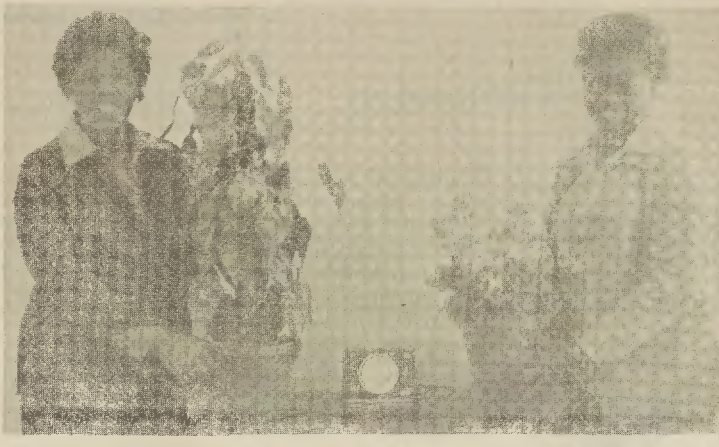

Be sure to check your local television listings for the correct time. This show will air on Channel 8 on Sunday, February 19.

WSSU Faculty Wives Meet

The Faculty Wives Club of Winston-Salem State University held a luncheon meeting recently at Shoney's Restaurant, Coliseum Drive. The group discussed plans for various activities for the remainder of the school year.

A Valentine's Party for club members and spouses was held February 10th at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Willie Grissom.

Any faculty wives interested in participating in the group's activities, contact Mrs. Helen Simms or Mrs. Clara Gaines, the group's coordinators.

Womble Urges Library Use

by Yvette McCullough Staff Reporter

"The East Winston Library is not being utilized to its fullest potential," Larry Womble, an administrative assistant at Old Town Elementary told a small group last Wednesday night at the East Winston Library. As part of its celebration of "Afro American History Month" the East Winston Library is presenting programs this month, on Wednesdays from 7-9.

Womble, an unsuccessful candidate for alderman in the Southeast Ward, gave a short talk on the importance of using the library. He said that he used the library as a kid and that it was the main activity place in East Winston.

"I'm in education and have worked in various schools," Womble said. "Ask friends and neighbors to support activities in the library. I know the importance of using the library. You should check out your history and check out your ancestors."

Margaret Allen, librarian at East Winston Library, said that there are a lot of Black Personalities that blacks haven't heard about.

"There's no excuse for people being ignorant when there is a library," Mrs. Allen said. "The first place to start is in the East Winston Library."

The theme of last Wednesday's program was "Personalities of Famous Black Americans" and films were shown on Jesse Owens and James Weldon Johnson.

Jesse Owens was a sprinter and broad jumper and was the star of the Olympic games held in Berlin, Germany in 1936. Owens won gold medals in the 100-meter dash, 200-meter dash, the broad jump and was the anchor man on the U.S. 400-meter relay team.

James Weldon Johnson was author of numerous books of both prose and verse. His more notable works are "The Autobiography of an Ex-Colored Man", a fictional biography published in 1912 and "The Creation" which is still performed today. Johnson's poem "Lift Every Voice and Sing" was adopted in the 1930's as the black's national hymn.

ERA Caravan Arrives In City

The North Carolina ERA Caravan will be in Winston-Salem Friday at 7:30 p.m. at the Glade Street YWCA. The Caravan, which is sponsored by the National Organization of Women repeats the campaign activities of the early twentieth century suffragists in commemoration of the 58th Anniversary of the passage of the 19th Amendment, which granted women the right to vote.

Early suffragettes traveled by train and carriage, touring the country to muster support for the 19th Amendment. Today's caravan, which began in Fayetteville on February 13, consists of an eight-passenger van which will travel the entire state, making fifty stops before election day in November.

Caravan members will show a film entitled: "How We Got The Vote," and discuss the proposed ERA amendment with members of the audience. The ERA Amendment reads: "Equality of rights under the law shall not be denied or abridged by the United States or by any State on account of sex." To pass, it will require a positive vote by two-thirds of Congress and then ratification by three-quarters of the state legislatures. The time limit on passage of the amendment is March 1979.

The ERA Amendment has its opponents, both male and female, but NOW members counter objections by recalling some of the "scientific" reasoning used 58 years ago to oppose the 19th Amendment. In those days, people were warned that: "... to allow women to vote would cause all their blood to rush to their brains, thereby drastically reducing blood supply in the rest of the body. The result of the reduced blood supply in the rest of the body. The result of the reduced blood supply would be dangerous to the fetus in women who voted while pregnant."

Leaders of the Caravan hope to mobilize constituent support for those candidates in the May legislative primary who express their commitment to the passage of ERA.
