"Let him that glorieth, glory in this, that he understandeth and knoweth me, that I am the Lord that exercise loving-kindness, judgment, and righteousness, in the earth" Jer. 9:24. 17th Century Puritan divines rightly asserted that man's chief end is "to glorify God and enjoy Him forever." However, for man to fulfil the law of his being, the incomprehensible God had to manifest Himself. Hence the doctrine of God's knowability.

God revealed something of His wisdom and power in creation, especially His eternity and sovereignty will since He who made all things must be self-existent and eternal, and preserves them for no other cause than His own good pleasure (Rev. 4:11). Both day and night reveal His glory as if they had tongues to talk (Ps. 19:1-2). Thus, He so manifests "His perfections in the whole structure of the universe, and daily places himself in our view, that we cannot open our eyes without being compelled to behold Him" (John Calvin).

Daily providence evidences God's paternal care and all-sufficiency in governing, guiding, protecting, and supplying man's needs. The Apostle Paul testified, "He (God) left not himself without witness, in that he did good, and gave us rain from heaven, and fruitful seasons, filling our hearts with foods and gladness" Acts 14:17.

God also stamped his knowledge into man's very soul. Tertullian affirmed, "From the very beginning a consciousness of God was given to the soul." For Calvin, "There exists in the human mind, and indeed by natural instinct, some sense of 'Deity...the memory of which (God) constantly renews and occasionally enlarges.' Conscience, God's messenger in the heart, also teaches man that this God governs by laws of right and wrong, and punishes the disobedient and rewards the upright.

God, foreseeing that sin would darken man's knowledge of Him in creation, providence, and the human soul, gave the Bible wherein His character and works are estimated not by depraved judgment, but by eternal truth. The Bible reveals His spiritual nature of ineffable holiness, justice, goodness, truth, wisdom, and power as "a character worthy of a God" (James Boyce). Thus holy Scripture instructs men in the sure marks that distinguish God from erroneous representations of Him by false religions.

Scripture and conscious bore witness to God's holiness and hatred of sin, but nothing of redeeming love. Mankind remained in doubt and ignorance of its manifestation. Socrates remarked, "It may be that the Deity can forgive sin; but I don't know how!" "Did God's love need to be proved?" "Yes, as all paganism shows: Gods vicious, careless, cruel, beautiful there were in abundance; but where is there a god who loves?" (Alexander McLaren). In Jesus Christ, God gave the highest revelation of His wisdom, power, and eternal love. "In this was manifested the love of God toward us, because He sent his only begotten Son into the world, that we might live through him" 1 John 4:9. Jesus said, "He that hath seen me, hath seen the Father" John 14:9. James C. McMillian, Minister of Education

Caesar To Perform in Walnut Cove

Evangelist Shirley Caesar

By Yvette McCullough
Staff Writer

Rev. Theodore Rice will present Evangelist Shirley Caesar and the Caesar Singers of Durham in a gospel program Friday, July 13 at the London High School Auditorium in Walnut Cove at 8:30.

Also featured on the program will be the Sensational Free Grace and the Rice Family as part of the Mercy Seat Outreach.

Rev. Theodore Rice, pastor of Mercy Seat Holy Church is the organizer of the Mercy Seat Outreach which includes five other ministers. They are Rev. Alonzo McCloud of New Light Baptist Church, Rev. Sam Cornelius of New Jerusalem Baptist Church, Rev. Mack McConnell of Pilgrim Rest, Rev. E. L. Clark of Second New Bethel Baptist Church, and Rev. Benjamin Dunlap associate minister of Mercy Seat.

The program is one of many professional programs the outreach will be sponsoring. Mercy Seat Outreach recently held a week long crusade in July at the Greenway Auditorium.

Rev. Rice said the program is part of a vision he has had about the outreach. "Mercy Seat Outreach is a soul winning, helping hand outreach," he said. "We are chartered and the headquarters is at mercy Seat but will be spreading nationwide."
