Garden Club Makes Fall Plans

The Within the Picket Fence Garden Club met Oct. 3, at the home of Mrs. J.L. Hunt, 2638 Speas Road. Mrs. Thelma Lewis presided.

The program for the year was presented by the program committee. After old and new business, Mrs. Hunt gave her demonstration on Ocebana.

This is a Japanese method of making greeting cards. She used different kinds of leaves and flowers to make the cards.

She had each member to make a card.

A lovely repast was served by Mrs. Hunt. Present were: Mrs. Maggie Bailey (new member), Mrs. Arrie Wright, Miss Annie Wellman, Mrs. Mildred Poindexter, Mrs. Theotis Jackson, Mrs. Bea Kirby, Mrs. Thelma Lewis, Mrs. J.L. Hunt and Mrs. Ella Belle Tillman.

The November meeting will be held at Mrs. Arrie Wright's home.

Sandra Dowler
Manager, Sherwood Office

Wachovia has 19 offices in the Winston-Salem/Clemmons/Kernersville area. That's more than any other bank. But convenience of location isn't the only reason people bank with us.

Because people bank with people, not locations. That's why Wachovia assigns a Personal Banker to every customer. And why we're proud of our branch management people like Sandra Dowler.

Because we want our people to always be the kind of people you like to bank with.

Byrds Hold Reunion

The weekend of Oct. 5-8 marked the celebration of the first family reunion of the Byrd family. The members of the family arrived on Friday and host and hostess were Mrs. Lucille Byrd Ransby and family, also Mr. Elmon Byrd.

Four generations of the family were in attendance. Out of town guests were: Mr. & Mrs. L.C. Thomas, Mr. Ernest Byrd and daughter Tina, of Detroit, Mich. Mrs. Lizzie Ford, Mrs. Elsie Kidd, son and daughter, Adrian and Greta, and Mrs. Inez Fontanez, New York City. Mrs. Daisy Dawson and Ms. Catherine Dawson, Hogansville, Ga.

The business meeting was held on Saturday morning and officers were elected as following: Mrs. Lucille B. Ransby, president; Elsie Kidd, secretary; Inez Fontanez and Wanda Sales, assistant secretaries; L.C. Thomas, treasurer; Catherine and Daisy Dawson, co-ordinators.

The weekend activities included a barbecue on Saturday evening. The family worshipped at the Greater United Progressive Baptist Church on Sunday morning. The reunion dinner followed on the lawn of the newly elected president.

The program included remarks and a memorial prayer by Dr. Q. Austin Caldwell. The family was joined by several friends and members of the church. Monday's activities included breakfast at the Coliseum Kitchen, a tour of Whitaker Park, and a site-seeing tour of our city.

The family made plans for the reunion to be held in Atlanta, Ga. next year.
