Missionaries Arrive in Area

Elder S. Craig Debenham of Spokane, Wash. has arrived in Winston-Salem to do missionary work for the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-Day Saints. He will be working with Elder A. Lance Farr of Salt Lake City, Utah.

He and Elder Farr are two of the 30,000 missionaries that the church has around the world. Like all workers in the church they are not reimbursed for their services.

"We have taken time out of school and/or work to serve the Lord here in North Carolina," Elder Debenham stated.

Elder Farr said, "The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-Day Saints is a very family centered church. In addition to conducting an activity entitled "Family Home Evening," which is a program designed to bring added love, understanding, and unity to the home, we also share a special message about the gospel of Jesus Christ."

The Mormons feel that no other success is as important as success in the home. "The family is the basic unit of society and no other institutions can take its place nor fulfill its essential function. We know that our lives outside the home are richer, more productive, and more satisfying when our lives inside the home are united in family love and solarity," the spokesman said.

The church in this area is located at 4780 Westchester Road. For more information call 768-7095, before 9:30 a.m. or after 9:30 p.m.

Rev. K.O.P. Goodwin delivers the keynote address at the 13th Annual Homecoming ceremonies of Bivouac Lodge No. 503 held last week at the Hilton Inn. Dr. Goodwin challenged the crowd of some 100 lodge members, their guests and friends to have faith in God. Rev. Goodwin also assured that only God could destroy this earth, therefore, he said, "there is no need to worry about nuclear weapons, when God is ready, there is nothing you can do about it."
