Leaders Agree

Racism Will Dominate 1981

By Donna Oldham
Staff Writer

Black civic, political and educational leaders in Winston-Salem have predicted a dismal and gloomy 1981 for blacks because of what most called "the new wave of conservatism."

When interviewed by the Chronicle earlier this week, most questioned said that they also were most worried by the "vast racism" that the new Republican administration could possibly bring, nationally, state-wide and locally.

Alderman Virginia K. Newell - "With inflation and the resurgence of the Ku Klux Klan, we really need to pay attention to those two things in particular, and with our system of injustice...we need to do a lot in that arena." "We didn't have any great tragedies in 1980, basically, but the disappointments as I see it were allowing the Klansmen and Nazis to be freed in Greensboro, and then for us to hear that the Wilmington 10 had indeed been in-

Kids May Not Get $10 Raise

By Mari Wooden
Staff Writer

The Forsyth County Commissioners, at a meeting held December 22, decided to table a proposal for the recommendation of a $10-a-month increase in foster care until their next meeting January 12.

County Manager, H.L. "Pete" Jenkins said that before the Commissioners vote they wanted to see what other counties were doing as well as a yearly breakdown of foster care increases here in Forsyth County.

Gerald M. Thornton, Director of the Forsyth County Department of Social Services, said at the briefing meeting held one week before, that "he hoped the Commissioners could find it in their hearts to increase the rates from the $140 they now receive."

"I have confidence you (Commissioners) will take care of the children and I just came by to see what the score would be," Thornton said.

In a telephone interview last Monday, Thornton added, "I'm not really certain of the whys...I was a bit too confident at the briefing meeting...I was shocked at the outcome," he said, continuing, "I could understand their asking for the necessary information...I could have given it to them at the briefing meeting...interest seemed to be waning." Cathy Kanecht, the county's Foster Care coordinator said, "I was disappointed. The money is for food and clothing for the children. Inflation causes increases in everything."

Uncle Sam Wants Those Born In '62-'63

Selective Service registration for men born in 1962 will take place during the week of January 5th, 1981. Men born in 1963 (and later) should register within 30 days of their 18th birthdays. This is a continuation of the program begun last summer, whereby men born in 1960 and 1961 visited post offices across the nation to fill in the registration form.

The purpose of registration is to build a pool of names and addresses from which Selective Service could draw in an emergency. According to Dr. Bernard D. Rostker, Director of the Selective Service System: "Registration directly improves our capability to respond. . . actually reducing lead time by at least four weeks. We think that provides a significant advantage, especially when matched with the very low cost of the registration effort." The direct costs of registration are less than $2 per registrant.

Black Social Workers Will Hear Harvey

On Saturday, January 10, the Winston-Salem Chapter of the North Carolina State Association of Black Social Workers will present a lecture by Aminifu Richard Harvey, MSW, ACSW, from 10 a.m. until 2 p.m. at the Patterson Avenue YM-CA. A $5 fee will include lunch.

Harvy will discuss an African Worldview as a Basis for Social Work Theory and practice. He will compare the Afrocentric perspective of social work to the Eurocentric perspective. After his presentation, he will entertain questions from a panel of participants as well as from the general audience.

Harvy's credentials include a tenured assistant professorship in California State University's department of Social Welfare and Corrections; psychiatric social worker at a community mental health center in Los Angeles, California; child care counselor; probation officer and a number of related volunteer and work experiences. He also has to his credit several articles comparing Afro and Eurocentric perspectives in various aspects of social work. He is presently a doctoral candidate at Howard University's School of Social Work.

The Winston-Salem Chapter presents this program in response to an expressed need to educate human service workers to better deal with their Black clients - and, where necessary, to change and adapt existing theories and practices to meet the unique needs of the Black client community.

MLK March Set Jan. 15

The Winston-Salem Stevie Wonder Parade Committee is sponsoring a trip to Washington, D.C., January 15, to participate in a parade program to celebrate the birthday of the late Dr. Martin Luther King.

Wonder, who will lead the parade, has been instrumental in trying to get the Senate to declare King's birthday a national holiday. Other celebrities and national leaders will be joining Wonder in the march and day's activities.

The cost of the trip will be $23. Buses will leave Northside Shopping Center, Thursday morning, Jan. 15 at 2 a.m. Buses will leave Washington to return to Winston-Salem, Thursday night at 11:30 p.m.

The deadline for all money is Tuesday, Jan. 13. For more information contact Doris Sinclair at 767-3517.

1981: Outlook Bleak

Economic Outlook For 1981
Richard B. Roberts, Senior Vice President
Wachovia Bank and Trust Company
Winston-Salem, N.C.

Last year at this time the predictions of many economists for 1980 were quite reserved and non-sensational. Now that you are in a better position to view the events of the year, in general, how would you characterize the beginning of the current decade?

On the national level the economy has entered the 80s with a series of starts and stops, with the overall direction for the year slightly downward. At this point the economy appears to be softening again after a modest recovery from the downturn of earlier this year. The upward flight of interest rates in recent weeks has added an element of uncertainty to the overall situation.

Chief Answers The Call

Winston-Salem Fire Chief Lester Ervin answers more calls than those to fight fires. Ervin, who has donated blood on and off for the past 20 years donated a pint during this week's blood drive sponsored by WXII television and WSJS radio.

New Year Brings New License Rules

If your driver license expires in 1981, you will be among the first motorists in this state to be phased into the new classified driver license system.

But if your driver license does not expire this year, you will not be phased into the system until your current valid license is scheduled to expire. You can check your drivers license for the expiration date.

More than 1.3 million motorists will obtain licenses under the new system during 1981. The classified system will be phased in over the next four years.

The classified driver license system becomes effective for driver license renewals after Jan. 1.

This system replaces the operator and chauffeur licenses issued under the old system.

Motor Vehicles Commissioner Elbert L. Peters Jr. said, "Drivers with current valid driver licenses will not be affected by the new
