NAACP

Says Klan No Aberration

Dr. Beverly Cole, Director of the NAACP Education Programs, has taken issue with the Anti-Defamation League of B'nai B'rith's (ADL) criticism of the National Education Association's (NEA) declaration that the Ku Klux Klan grows out of American racism.

The Klan is not an aberration, as the ADL claims, but "the tip of the iceberg, the most visible and obvious manifestation of the entrenched racism in our society," reports the new curriculum being distributed by the NEA.

Dr. Cole found the ADL's criticism of this notion "appalling."

"For the ADL to be 'diametrically opposed' to the notion that America is institutionally racist is to be either incredibly insensitive or incredibly naive," says

Ms. Cole. "The Kerner Commission...stated in 1968, that 'White racism is essentially responsible for the explosive mixture which has been accumulating in our cities...In addition, the numerous reports of the U.S. Commission on Civil Rights are replete with evidence of America's racism.'"

"Violence, the Ku Klux Klan and the Struggle for Equality: An Information and Instruction Kit," the NEA publication, also states that "the violent nature of the Klan feeds on a climate of general social acceptance of racism" and it contains statistics that show the widening of social and economic gaps between blacks and whites during the past 20 years.

Kenneth Bialkin, chairman of the ADL's National Executive Committee said that the NEA publication "is presenting students with a false view of their country" and noted that the ADL is preparing an "alternative curriculum" based on its experience as the principal monitor of the Klan and other extremist groups in the country.

Ms. Cole responded, "It serves no useful purpose for Americans to adopt self-righteous and defensive views about its problems. The psychological games of self-deception will not solve anything."

The NEA curriculum was prepared by the Council on Interracial Books for Children in consultation with the NEA's Department of Instruction and Professional Development and a special task force of the Connecticut Education Association.

Crimestoppers

Authorities Seek May

Winston-Salem/Forsyth County Crime Stoppers is asking for your help in locating an escaped felon sentenced to life in prison for murder.

Six and one half years ago, Jones Confectionery was located at 1439 North Trade St. This business has since been torn down.

On Feb. 13, 1975, Elijah Whitaker Jones, owner and operator of Jones Confectionery, was fatally wounded during the robbery. Mr. Jones was shot with a sawed-off shotgun; however, he managed to shoot and wound the robber as he was fleeing the scene.

A short time later, a subject was found lying in some high grass off the 1400 block of North Main Street. This person was later identified as Michael Anthony May. May was treated and released from the hospital and charged with first degree murder.

In July of 1977, May was convicted of murder in Forsyth County Superior Court and given a life sentence.

Michael May

On July 5 of this year, May and Dwight Gary escaped from the Davie County Prison Unit. Dwight Gary was subsequently arrested in Washington, D. C.* and May is still at large.

May is a Black male, 23 years old, 5 feet 10 inches tall, and weight 130 pounds. He has a medium complexion and a scar on his left chest as a result of the gunshot wound.

May has worked as a short order cook and his last home address was 2381 Greenway Ave., Winston-Salem. He is also known to have relatives in Chicago.

Crime Stoppers will pay up to $1,000 in rewards for information leading to the arrest and indictment of those responsible for this crime. In addition, Crime Stoppers will pay rewards for information leading to the solution of any serious unsolved crime.

If you have any information about this crime or any serious unsolved crime, call Crime Stoppers at 727-2800. You need not reveal your identity.

Islamic Education Views, Part II

By Judy Rashid
Special To The Chronicle
Man should be encouraged to seek knowledge from the cradle to the grave. Unlike most things, "the bigger the mind grows, the lighter it gets;" the smaller it is, the heavier the burden is." Therefore, having the knowledge of something makes our minds big and serves as light in our lives; wherein being ignorant without facts makes us small in our thinking and places extreme pressure on our understanding. When the desire to learn stops, a slow death of the mind creeps in. The common expression for this state of the mind is "the living dead".

Scripture tells us, in relating to the quest of knowledge, that "Ye shall know the truth and the truth shall set you free." This passage is very profound indeed.

The best freedom is offered through the acquisition of knowledge. Ignorance no longer haunts you into superstition, suspicion and suspense. You are free to examine and re-examine your thoughts according to intelligent standards of common sense and rational thinking. Fear of the unknown is replaced with courage, curiosity and conquest.

The proper education should foster the greatest amount of freedom, yet preserve to order of the society.
