Fayetteville State Names New Women's Coach

By John B. Henderson
Special To The Chronicle

FAYETTEVILLE — A former assistant coach at Norfolk State University and a Gatesville native was recently appointed new women's basketball coach at Fayetteville State University.

Coach Mary Lamb

The new Lady Bronco head coach is Mary Lamb, who succeeds Yvonne Edwards. Edwards resigned to accept a similar post at North Carolina Central University.

When asked how it felt to be the new head coach at FSU, Lamb replied, "It feels great. I certainly feel that I have accomplished one of my goals."

FSU officials are also pleased.

"She (Lamb) has the head coaching experience we were looking for," said FSU Athletic Director John D. Marshall.

The appointment became effective Sept. 1.

Lamb received the bachelor of science degree in health, physical education and recreation from Norfolk State University in 1975 and a master's degree in health and physical education from Glassboro State College, in Glassboro, N.J. in 1977.

Coach Lamb has served as assistant basketball coach and head volleyball coach at Norfolk State University during the academic year 1980-81.

Before returning to her alma mater, she worked four and one-half years in the Camden, N.J., public school system as a teacher of health and physical education as well as a head coach in basketball for one year. Lamb is a member of the Delta Sigma Theta Sorority.

USFL's Draft A Bit Different

Q. Can you tell me how the United States Football League draft will be conducted? — Sheila Murray, Miami.

A. The USFL teams will draft in much the same fashion as their National Football League counterparts. However, things will be done a bit differently in the USFL. Colleges from around the country have been "assigned" to particular USFL teams. For example, all Florida A&M and Bethune-Cookman players automatically go to the Tampa Bay team in the USFL. If the Tampa Bay team doesn't want them, then they're free to sign with any other USFL team. Of course, a FAMU or B-CC player doesn't have to play in the USFL. The NFL and Canadian Football League offer two more options. Actually, the USFL should be a bonanza for black college players. Now those players who weren't quite ready for the NFL have a future in pro football.

Q. Can you settle an argument for us? Can an offensive player intentionally fumble the ball in the end zone and allow his teammate to recover it for a touchdown? — Joey Yates, Houston.

A. Yes, as long as the officials did not know what was going on. The rules say you can't intentionally fumble the ball into the endzone, but how is an official to tell whether a fumble was intentional? The Oakland Raiders — now the Los Angeles Raiders — once won a playoff game when tight end Dave Casper kicked and fumbled the ball all the way into the end zone, only to fall on it for the winning touchdown. It was ruled a fair play, although some say Casper fumbled on purpose.
