HANSEL HENTZ

Budweiser salutes Hansel Hentz, recreation playfield director at the 14th Street Community Center, as this month's outstanding black community leader.

Once a semi-pro football player, Hentz has played an active role in community recreation by forming summer league basketball teams, weight training programs and other recreational outlets.

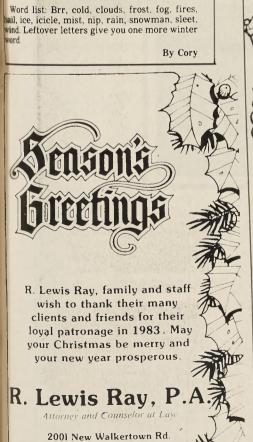

Hentz, who attended Fayetteville State University, believes that young people need people who can give them a helping hand. "All these kids need is a little love and understanding and somebody to make'em feel like somebody.'

Budweiser salutes outstanding members of the Black Community. Each monthly winner receives a $50 cash prize provided by R.H. Barringer Distributing Company, your local distributor of Anheuser-Busch products. Winners are selected by the editors of this newspaper.
