Senior citizens meet

The Skyland Senior Citizens Club and the Rupert Bell Chorus have begun their activities for the year under the leadership of Mrs. Janie Wilson. The chorus is composed of female senior citizens who sing bi-monthly at various nursing homes.

The group hold monthly meetings at the Rupert Bell Center every first and third Thursday.

The group recently presented a program on black history, coordinated by Mrs. Mamie White. During the month of February, Mrs. Wilson, the president of the group, was presented a certification of recognition for outstanding service in the community from the Winston-Salem National Council of Negro Women.

The group invites all interest senior citizens to join them at there regular meetings at Rupert Bell Center.

The officers are Mrs. Janie Wilson, president; Mrs. Etta Williams, secretary; Mrs. Margaret Howard, treasurer; and Mrs. Katie Fair, reporter.

Club holds luncheon

Mrs. Lois Hauser hosted the February meeting of the Flower Niche Garden Club last Saturday. The meeting opened with the club collect.

The agenda included discussion of the club's nominee for the Human Relations Award and the 4th District Garden Council report by the president Mrs. Edythe Williams with Mrs. Gwendolyn Greene and Mrs. Carolyn Boyd as presenters. We sold the highest number of tickets for the Holiday House.

Show-and-tell session featured Mrs. Mary Warren, Mrs. Anne Motz and Mrs. Louise Smith. Mrs. Carolyn Boyd made the treasurer's report and the club made a donation to the American Heart Association.

Members exchanged plants to be returned to the rightful owners in May and enjoyed fellowship and a delicious luncheon.

Others attending the meeting were Mrs. Vivienne Conley, Mrs. Bessye Dobson, Mrs. Gloria Goore, Mrs. Grace Lowery, Mrs. Louise Sadler, Mrs. Eula Smith, Mrs. Marion Wooten and Mrs. Bernice Davenport.
