

Rep. Annie Brown Kennedy

Rep. Kennedy honored

Rep. Annie Brown Kennedy, D-Forsyth County, recently received a Distinguished Leadership Alumni Award from the National Association for Equal Opportunity in Higher Education. Kennedy was nominated by her alma mater, Spelman College, for her contributions as an attorney and an elected official. She received the award at the annual meeting of the association at the Washington Hilton Hotel in Washington, D.C. The NAEOHE is an organization of the historically black colleges and universities and consists of 114 institutions across the country and the Virgin Islands.

Dr. Prezell Robinson, president of St. Augustine's College in Raleigh, is the outgoing president of the organization. Locally, Winston-Salem State University is a member of the organization and was represented in Washington by Chancellor H. Douglas Covington, Denise Purdie, the chancellor's assistant, and Myron Chenault, WSSU's vice chancellor for development.
