

Bensons Musical Travel Club presents concert

The Bensons Musical Travel Club will present a "Saturday Night Live" gospel concert Saturday, May 19, from 7-9 p.m. at Antioch Baptist Church on Lansing Drive.

Special guests will be the Central Orphanage Choir of Oxford and the Torrence Family Singers of Baltimore, Md.

Local groups appearing will be the Martin Family, Booker and Easter Winn, Union Baptist Church Male Chorus, United House of Prayer Choir, Macedonia True Vine Pentecostal Holiness Church Choir, the Gospel Stylistics and the combined choirs of Antioch.

The purpose of the concert is to help raise funds for the Children's Division of the club to take a European tour of seven countries in June.

Cory Harris will be announced as the winner of the Musical Baby, along with Lewis Westberry for second place and Jamilia Ross as the third-place winner.

Special selections will be delivered by Daren Funderburk and Mrs. Cynthia Williams.

The Torrence Family Singers of Baltimore, Md., will appear in the Bensons Musical Travel Club's "Saturday Night Live" gospel concert this Saturday at Antioch Baptist Church. The show begins at 7 p.m.

Pentecostal Church will open Sunday

The Rev. Anna Carter Lester

The Rev. Anna Carter Lester and the congregation of the City of God Pentecostal Church of Deliverance at 2201 23rd St. N.E. will open for Sunday School on Sunday, May 20, at 10 p.m.

At 3 p.m., evangelical services will begin, with a grand opening ceremony at 4 p.m.

Weekly Bible study will be held at the church on Thursdays at 7 p.m.

The Rev. Lester, a former registrar and teacher in the Newark Deliverance Institute, is widely known for her extensive training and contributions in the field of religious education, both in America and Africa.

She is supervisor and director of the City of God and Chapel of Hope Bible Academy at 2040 E. 23rd St.

The school, which opened in November 1983, offers courses in evangelism, Bible synthesis, homiletics, lectures on personal work, harmony of the four gospels, supernatural ministry and a special course for advanced students, missionaries and ministers in demonology.

Adams says that once the softball effort gets underway, other team sports will be given consideration so that the church youth can be actively involved throughout the year.

"These kids really enjoy the fellowship," says Adams. "Many of their parents are professionals and may not have the time to be with the kids all the time to help them develop the whole person."

Dr. Virginia Newell delivers Mother's Day message

The United Methodist Men of St. Paul United Methodist Church honored all mothers of the church at the Mother's Day Breakfast held Sunday, May 13.

The guest speaker was Dr. Virginia K. Newell, professor of mathematics at Winston-Salem State University and a member of the city's Board of Aldermen.

James Orange, a member of the planning committee, presided. The welcome message was brought by Carlton Holland. Acie McGhee, president of the UMM, gave the occasion. Dr. Newell was introduced by William E. Mckoy Sr. Lucius Smith offered the prayer. Music was furnished by the Men's Chorus, accompanied by Mrs. Ruth G. Glenn.

Future plans for the group were announced by Mr. Orange. Some of the plans will involve the Youth Ministries and other groups at St. Paul. Visitors present included retired professor and husband of the guest speaker, George Newell.

The Rev. Belvin Jessup gave the closing remarks and commended the UMM program.

Other members of the planning committee include Verdell Michaux, Howard Lowe and Paul Linton.
