Human Race

You're an impertinent curse...
 Full of vain glory...
 Always worshipping yourself
 Never thinking of others.
 Your high and mighty thoughts
 shut the small man out.
 And then you say: What can he offer me?
 I'm God's gift to man, can't you see?
 You're an impertinent curse
 fully of vain glory.
 If we could see the inside of you
 oh, what a different story.
 The real you

possesses no glory!!

Ann Little

Elusive One

A million wishes
 Each one the same
 Arms to hold me
 A friend to claim
 What is rarer
 Than a heart that's alone
 Is a lonelier soul
 Finding no one at home
 Come to me, elusive one
 I need you to be near
 All that's wanted is someone
 That can be called dear

Nettie McCarrell

"The Master's Calling"

Heed to the master's call,
 for he may not call again.
 Oh, my sister and my brother,
 don't you know that he's your friend?
 Awake, Awake! Oh sleeping souls and receive the gifts he has for you.
 A new mind and heart are waiting and life everlasting, too.

WEEK OF: JUNE 14, 1984

AQUARIUS - January 21-February 19
 Week offers financial gains, renewed friendship, and the birth of a new and potentially profitable idea. One warning: Watch uncommon tendency to be blunt and uncompromising.

PISCES - February 20-March 20
 Mutual respect is enhanced between you and favorite friend. Week favors gradual financial expansion. In fact, gradual is the current byword in all your various endeavors.

ARIES - March 21-April 20
 Lots of options are sprinkled through the week and your greatest problem lies in the choosing. A popular friend looks forward to your company much more than you may believe.

TAURUS - April 21-May 22
 Good week to launch a campaign or become involved in political activities. Recent statement may return to haunt you; this time, choose every word with meticulous care.

GEMINI - May 23-June 21
 Romantic misunderstanding can easily turn into romantic entanglement; don't make light of a serious situation. Creative skills are sharp. Consider, perhaps, teaching a class.

CANCER - June 22-July 22
 Your most innocent remarks take on shades of meaning by several friends. Changes in home setting — from a move to a new decor — are generally accentuated through this period.

LEO - July 23-August 22
 Feelings of doubt linger till Saturday, but confidence is stronger than ever by the weekend. Don't look back. Proceed with new projects, new vigor, and a new look.

VIRGO - August 23-September 22
 It's important to speak your mind, but equally important to know your audience well. Aggressive neighbor or coworker is easier to live with. Intellectual activities are spotlighted.

LIBRA - September 23-October 22
 Your sense of humor can pierce the tensions that hang over you this week. Then, summer's off to an official start. Youngsters benefit from your encouragement.

SCORPIO - October 23-November 21
 It's not too late to catch up on ancient correspondence, obligations and the like. Planning ahead is important; purchase tickets or make reservations before you're too late.

SAGITTARIUS - November 22-December 22
 It's unlike you, but this week you're heeding everyone's advice but your own — and that can be a problem. Your ideas may not be popular, but they're more effective than you believe.

CAPRICORN - December 23-January 20
 Correspondence received now holds a bundle of news and demands prompt action on your part. Social life perks up as you learn to accentuate your very unique strengths.

BIRTHDAY THIS WEEK
 People often think you have psychic powers, which may relate to the fact that you're so sympathetic to the feelings and needs of others. New influences that enter your world lead to definite improvement in important relationships by late summer or early autumn.

BORN THIS WEEK

to meet Jackson in a recording studio where they proceeded to wax one of Michael's original compositions.

I've learned that an agreement's been made stipulating that, if either star isn't happy with the duet, it won't be included on the LP. But Columbia Records sees so little chance of that that it's already making plans for a $300,000 Jagger-Jackson music video — which insiders figure will end up costing at least double that amount...

Sidney Poitier auditioned no less than 2,500 ballet dancers in order to select eight young leads for the Columbia "Shootout" film he'll start directing in New York. Based on an original story by Poitier, "Shootout" will tell the tale of a group of young dancers who leave their Ohio homes to find a place for themselves in New York's world of ballet....

Singer Teddy Pendergrass' return to the limelight two years after the tragic auto accident that left him partially paralyzed is turning into a media celebration. He has been featured in a Life magazine layout, he and his new Elektra "Love Language"

LP were the subjects of a half-hour Cinemax "Album Flash" special on May 27, and soon he'll be featured with Patti LaBelle, Grover Washington Jr. and Luther Vandross on a "Welcome Home Teddy" video on MTV.

A recent operation has given Pendergrass new use of his fingers, but, according to aides, he remains "pretty much a quadriplegic."

And he doesn't intend to make any further professional plans for now — he simply wants to continue concentrating on his rehabilitation.
