Luscious Lover

There's no escaping it,
Your presence is everywhere
I hear your soft passionate voice that stirs the flames of my heart
and charts the course for our undying love
in every breeze...
You're romance inspiring...
you invite cuddling...
You leave a beautiful feeling...
You warm the cockles of my heart.
Luscious Lover
I love you!!!

"Spanish Hat"

My homemade Spanish hat I wear
From vegetables in garden green
So beautiful and fun to wear
As colorful as you've ever seen.
With cabbage leaves, red tomatoes whole
I tuck them neatly in a bowl
Stringbeans, okra and squash galore
I add green peppers, 3 or 4.
Then down the street I strut with pride
With banana peppers hanging from my side.

"A Home-Going Saint"

A hush filled the earth
And through the clouds the sun burst
And the sun bathed the ground that welcomed your remains
Like the ordaining of this day for a homegoing
Saint.
So, until the rapture comes, I'll bid thee peace and wait
For the sound of the trump, and I dare not faint!

WEEK OF: JULY 12, 1984

AQUARIUS - January 21-February 19

You and partner are starting to see eye to eye on the matter of finances, but there's still some friction on the subject of relatives. Higherup is attentive to your recent ideas.

PISCES - February 20-March 20

Family activities dominate the week - expect the unexpected through this period. If any negotiations are in progress, you may be able to hold out a little while longer.

ARIES - March 21-April 20

Imagination is strong and this is a good week to advance ideas or even patent an invention. Selectivity is keyword in friendship matters. Romantic expectation may be unrealistic.

TAURUS - April 21-May 22

Good week for making job applications or going after romantic goal. Real estate matter may be subject to delay. Narrow-minded friend starts to broaden his/her scope.

GEMINI - May 23-June 21

Delicious rumors you hear are not entirely reliable. Long-term family debate is settled thanks to your light approach. In new relationship, the key is to discover common interests.

CANCER - June 22-July 22

Although some of life's good things can come your way this week, you have little time to sit back and enjoy them. Careerwise, be sure you're not lowering your standards.

LEO - July 23-August 22

Budgets are subject to scrutiny through the week. Opinionated relative softens his/her approach. Romantic bond is strengthened through weekend. Decorating project may be launched now.

VIRGO - August 23-September 22

Scholarship is the accent of the week. At home or away, you enjoy the cultural side of life. You may be asked to share in a family expense.

LIBRA - September 23-October 22

A close friend reveals a more serious side of his or her personality, and a family member is unusually supportive. Professional goal appears within view.

SCORPIO - October 23-November 21

Watch tendency to make changes for their own sake. In romance, you should think twice before playing the waiting game. Imagination is uncommonly strong all week.

SAGITTARIUS - November 22-December 22

Domestic tensions increase by the weekend - it may be time to call in an objective arbitrator. Spend ample time reviewing family health needs. Opportunity arises for earning extra cash.

CAPRICORN - December 23-January 20

Too many projects may be on your plate and the key this week is to assign priorities to your various tasks. Communication matters improve and payments may arrive at long last.

BIRTHDAY THIS WEEK

You know how to make people feel comfortable - and as a result your home is often a drop-in center. You're flexible - which is a plus. But your moods fluctuate a little too much for loved one's comfort. Pet project receives major support through the next twelve months.

BORN THIS WEEK

July 12th, comedian Bill Cosby; 13th, host Dave Garroway; 14th, actress Polly Bergen; 15th, singer Linda Rondstadt; 16th, actress Ginger Rogers; 17th, actress Diahann Carroll; 18th, actor Hume Cronyn.

Yolonda

Dear Elaine: It's too bad that you can't get your husband to see a marriage counselor, because that's what it sounds like you both need. He needs to know that his stubbornness is wrecking his marriage, and causing you both unnecessary unhappiness.

If he chooses not to confront his problem or to move back upstairs, you're going to have to decide whether or not you can continue to remain in a marriage that, ultimately, is no more than a farce.

What If He Doesn't Call?

Dear Yolonda: There is something that has happened to me many times and I would like your opinion. I meet a man, we get together and have a nice time, then, after that one date, he doesn't bother to call me back. Why do men do this?

I don't think it's me who is at fault. I think it's the men. I've tried picking different types of guys -- educated, not-so-educated, athletic, not-so-athletic, but nothing helps. The men I meet like to play games. When they first meet me, they act as though they are so in love, then they just drop out of sight, without a courtesy call.

I would like to get your opinion on what I should do when this occurs. It just happened with a man I really liked. He came over once, and I haven't heard from him since. That was three weeks ago.

I'm afraid to call him because I'm not the bold type. I think he likes me, too. Please help. I'm 23.

Regina

Dear Regina: I haven't a clue as to why a guy would choose not to call you for a follow-up date, but I can tell you this: To initiate a telephone conversation does not make you bold.

Look at it like this: You two spent the evening together and had a great time. That makes you friends. So, pick up the phone and call your friend.

RSVP Means Yes Or No

Dear Yolonda: I'm having an argument with a girlfriend and I wonder if you can be of some help.

She sent me an invitation to her jewelry party. The invitation asked me to RSVP. I was tied up and could not make the party. My friend is now angry at me because she says that RSVP meant that I should have called, even if I couldn't make it.

I thought RSVP meant call only if you're going to show up. What sense would it make to call someone and tell them that you're not going to be able to attend their functions?

DeLoris

Dear DeLoris: I asked a friend, who, in matters of etiquette, is always correct. She said: "Rsvp is a French term that means 'please reply,' either way. It's a way to let the host know how many people to plan for. In fact, it's discourteous not to reply."

So, your friend was right, but she should forgive you because you didn't know.
