

A Beautiful Show

The Winston-Salem Beauticians Association Chapter No. 2 recently sponsored a fashion show at the Prince Hall Masonic Temple. The winners of the fashion show were Anton Reed, Charll Scales, Marie Lilly and Robert Reddis. Other models participating were Douglas Crethertson, Marie Kimborough, Sylvia Douthit, Ron Douthit, Kim Watkins and Cynthia Watkins. Mrs. Mamie White was the master of ceremonies and trophies were provided by Ervin Beauty Services.

United Way agencies get emergency funds

Three local agencies received a total of $78,354 in federal funds to provide additional emergency food and shelter services this winter.

Requests for the money were handled through the United Way, which recruited a citizen board to make the allocations.

The American Red Cross received a total of $12,515 to provide 840 meals and 305 unit-nights of lodging for individuals in need. The Salvation Army (City Command) will be able to provide 12,000 additional emergency meals and 5,105 unit-nights of lodging with a grant of $30,839.

The Experiment in Self-Reliance received a shelter allocation of $35,000. All funds are supplementary and are not intended to replace existing programs.

Both the Salvation Army and Experiment in Self-Reliance work with other organizations which provide emergency services to the community.

Federal guidelines require that the volunteer board select a chairperson, monitor expenditures, submit reports and remain operative through the fiscal year.

Board members include Robert B. Law, chairman; Charles Whitmire; the Rev. Morris Boyd; the Rev. Ginny Britt; Thomas Elijah Jr.; Elizabeth Fenwick; Rosemary Martin and Robert Stevens. United Way personnel serving on the board are W. Douglas Ashby, Florence P. Corpening and Sharon G. Hamilton.

Home economics workshop set

The Home Economics Department at Bennett College will conduct a three-week summer workshop in nutrition education for public school teachers.

Dr. Lovie Booker, chairperson of the department, explained that the program will provide a framework for integrating nutrition education into various subject areas using existing texts developed for N.C. schools.

Targeted participants are certified teachers in kindergarten through 12th grade in Guilford, Alamance and Forsyth counties who will have 45 hours of class time over the three-week period.

Booker said the the instruction will focus on the importance of proper nutrition, ways to combat misinformation confronting students via the mass media, computer experiences in nutrition education and the resources available for classroom use. Each participant will be required to develop an instructional project or activity appropriate to the interests and needs of a specific grade level.

"In-service teachers will be exposed to lectures, discussions, guest speakers and audio-visual aids," Dr. Booker said.

The project is funded by a $10,000 grant from the Department of Public Instruction's Division of Child Nutrition. Coordinators of the project are Dr. Booker, Dr. George Breathett and Mrs. Mary Ann Scarlette.

Inquiries about the program may be directed to Dr. Lovie K. Booker, Department of Home Economics, Bennett College, Greensboro, 27401-3237. Information will be sent to schools in the participating counties.

Musical auditions scheduled

Nell Lite Productions will hold the next round of auditions for the musical "To Build A Dream," the story of local brickmaker George Black, on Tuesday, Dec. 11 at 7 p.m. and on Thursday, Dec. 13, at 7 p.m. at St. Andrews United Methodist Church on Mint Street.

There are approximately 50 parts available, including George Black; his wife, Martha; Hines and Hedgecock, white businessmen; Jordan Foy, a black gentleman; Miss Mickey, a white lady; and George Black's brother, Will.

Also available are parts for singers and dancers. Everyone interested should plan to attend the auditions.

The production will open during Black History Month in February. Written by Nell Britton, a local author, teacher and director, "To Build A Dream" dramatizes Black's contributions from his childhood through his adult years, as told by his brother Will.

The musical will be directed by Mabel Robinson of the N.C. School of the Arts. Ms. Robinson also directed the popular musical, "The Wiz," performed by the Little Theatre.

For further information, call Georgia West at 722-3202 or Kay Johnson at 723-5974.

Simmons is 'Miss Minority Business'

Seven-year-old Amy Simmons, daughter of Becky Simmons of Westfield and granddaughter of Mrs. Irene Simmons, won the Little Miss Black-Minority Business Contest sponsored recently by the Socialette-Social Essence Club and the Surry County Section of the National Council of Negro Women.

Amy attends the Nancy Reynolds School in Stokes County.

Nine-year-old Marla Kendra Lorg, daughter of Ms. Yvonne Lightborne of Johnson Street in Mount Airy, was the second place winner. She attends Flat Rock Elementary School and is in the gifted and talented classes.

Third place winner was ten-year-old Erika Fonda Revels, daughter of Mary Bernice Revels of Mount Airy. She is a fifth grader at Tharrington Elementary School.

Fourth place winner was six-year-old Crystal Lee Hoosier, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hoosier of Eleanor Avenue in Mount Airy. Crystal attends Flat Rock Elementary School.

The Black-Minority Business Contest is part of the program the Socialette-Social Essence Club started in 1980 to recognize and honor the black-minority businesses in and around the Surry County-Mount Airy area.

Mrs. Martha L. Joyce is the president, founder and coordinator of the program and other activities to help black people understand their heritage.

Forsyth Hospital opens a new heart laboratory

Forsyth Memorial Hospital will open its cardiac catheterization laboratory later this month, allowing study of the most common form of adult heart disease, atherosclerotic heart disease.

This is the major cause of death in the nation, with over 500,000 deaths reported each year, and is the underlying cause of chest pain arising from the heart.

According to Dr. Dean Harris, chief of cardiac catheterization laboratory, it is the chief contributor of heart attacks as well as a major cause of congestive heart failure.

Harris said the new cath lab will provide safe, thorough and cost effective diagnostic studies by qualified personnel. The most advanced radiologic equipment available will be utilized, he said, components of which will be used for the first time in the country at Forsyth Memorial Hospital.
