

Hauser honored for mental health commission work

Rep. C.B. Hauser was among four legislators honored in Raleigh last week by the North Carolina Alliance for the Mentally Ill during its annual conference.

A member of the staff of the CBS national newsmagazine "60 Minutes" was also honored.

Hauser was recognized for his services on the House Mental Health Committee and as a member of the Mental Health Study Commission during his two terms in the General Assembly and for co-sponsoring House Bill 699 in the 1985 General Assembly.

The bill made available $2,500,000 for community-based services for the mentally ill.

The bill originally called for $5,000,000 for fiscal year 1985-86 and $10,000,000 for fiscal year 1986-87 but was reduced in committee to the $2.5-million figure.

The North Carolina Alliance is part of a national movement of 30,000 families with relatives suffering from mental illnesses such as schizophrenia and manic depression.

Outstanding Young Women of America awards program has announced its selections for the Outstanding Young Women of America.

Now in its 21st year, the Outstanding Young Women of America program is designed to honor and encourage exceptional young women between the ages of 21 and 36 who have distinguished themselves in their homes, their professions and their communities.

Board members say accomplishments such as theirs are the result of dedication, service and leadership.

The women will be named in the annual awards volume. In addition, they were also considered for one of the 51 state awards presented to women who have made noteworthy contributions in their individual states.

Local honorees include Kaaron E. Saunders, Theldora D. Small,

Teresa O. Brown, Dothula Baron-Butler, Kimberly L. Cloud, Katherine N. Wilson, Rita L. Brown, Prenessa M. Mickens, Belinda P. James, Donna E. Oldham, Mabel Y. McCullough, Beverly G. Reed, Denise A. Garner and Annette Beatty.
