Terrae Terry receives Wake Forest scholarship

Terrae Diana Terry, a Glenn High School senior, was recognized on Awards Day for her selection as a scholarship recipient to Wake Forest University.

She also received certificates for perfect attendance, for making the Honor Roll all four quarters, for being a member of the National Honor Society and for being the winner of the Human Relations Award for representing Glenn High School.

Miss Terry was not only involved in her studies, but she was also the Glenn High School correspondent for the Winston-Salem Chronicle, a member of the College Club, a peer counselor, a member of the Future Homemakers of America and the Forensic Society, and was on the Glenn High School newspaper staff.

She is also active at Mount Zion Baptist Church.

Miss Terry is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Todd of Winston-Salem. ...

In addition, the group rated the facilities and equipment as excellent and praised the cooperation that exists between A&T and North Carolina State University.

The 16 members of the Michigan group divided into six teams composed of members with similar jobs and visited six counties in North Carolina. Some members also toured Caswell, Avery, Robeson, Cumberland and Vance counties.

"The experience itself was very positive; they came back very impressed with the quality of work of the paraprofessionals, the professionalism and the dedication of the entire team," said O'Sullivan.

A&T's Dr. Daniel Lyons, agriculture and natural resource coordinator, and Dr. Robert Williamson, natural resource specialist, will be joining the Michigan group on the planned summer trip to the Dominican Republic.

The group will observe the activities of the extension and research programs in the Dominican Republic. The trip is part of the extension's focus to increase its involvement in international programs.

Lisa Peterson completes studies in Boston

Lisa Shell Peterson graduated from Boston University's College of Liberal Arts on Sunday, May 18, with a degree in sociology and a minor in Afro-American studies.

During her four years at the university, Ms. Peterson was active in the student government and participated in several student organizations. This summer, Ms. Peterson will work with Elizabeth Grady Face First Inc., a Boston-based skin-care company in Hartford, Conn. She will assist and oversee the company's new operations in the Connecticut area.

Ms. Peterson is the granddaughter of Sallie Shell of Winston-Salem and the late Deacon Douglas Shell. She is the winning revival of "Porgy and Bess." She has toured extensively throughout the United States and Europe.

Dr. Graham has been featured in major roles with the Houston Grand Opera, the Charlotte Opera, the Birmingham Civic Opera and the Palm Beach Opera.

William Moize of Durham will sing the role of Remus. A graduate of the North Carolina School of the Arts, Moize also studied at the Dance Theatre of Harlem.

He appeared at the Richmond Theatre Collection in Staten Island, N.Y., Radio City Music Hall, the Virginia Opera Association and the American Music Theatre Festival in Pennsylvania.

The performance begins at 8 p.m. on June 13 and 14. The June 15 performance is a 3 p.m. matinee.

The Winston-Salem performance is the third time that the opera will be presented in its entirety.

The first presentation was staged by the Houston Grand Opera in 1975 and the second by GM Productions in June 1985.
