High Tech And Your Health

Every day technology adds new ways to improve your health. Keeping up with that technology is critical to you and your family's health care. To help you have the most up-to-date service available we've added a pharmacy computer. With it, we maintain information on thousands of drugs — including details on possible side effects and potential interactions with other medications you're taking. To maximize the benefits you and your family receive from the computer, we need to fill out a confidential information form. Ask for one at the prescription counter the next time you're in the pharmacy.
