

Outward Bound

"We cannot warm over the past and shouldn't. It is difficult to see the future . . . Difficulty, however, is no excuse for sitting still, or turning back. This is not the nature of the people of North Carolina and I am sure it is not the nature of the people of America."

— Terry Sanford