

Area Weddings And Engagements

Graham-Johnson

Constance D. Graham and Fred D. Johnson were married Saturday, Nov. 8, in a 3 p.m. ceremony at Morning Star Baptist Church.

The bride is the daughter of Arlene C. Graham of Winston-Salem and the late Woodroner Graham.

The groom is the son of the late Fred Johnson Sr.

The Rev. J.L. Coleman officiated.

The bride was given in marriage by her brother, Jasper Z. Turner.

Serving as matron of honor

Constance G. Johnson was Jannette Thomas of Columbus, Ohio.

Best man was Frank Harris of Washington.

Ushers were Reginald Turner,

Derrille Smith, both of Winston-Salem, and Sgt. Darrell Johnson of Camp Lejeune.

The bride is a graduate of Durham Business College.

The groom is in the armed services.

The couple will live in Gaithsburg, Md.

Key Clubs

From Page A7

Individual club drives will be conducted November through January 1987. The grand finale will be held during a special ceremony in late January, when all the dollar bills are taped end to end to form the "Miracle Rainbow Mile."

The dollars will be draped at the Marketplace Mall in Winston-Salem as one continuous streamer, which the sponsors hope will total $10,560 for the Muscular Dystrophy Association.

Triaminic® Syrup
Triaminic® Tablets
or Triaminic-12® Tablets
For Allergy Relief
that's nothing to sneeze at.

© 1986 Durrer Laboratories, Division of
Hoechst, Inc., Lincoln, Nebraska 68501

Annual Lupus Bazaar, Yard & Bake Sale

Nov. 13-15

Thur. 1-8, Fri. & Sat. 10-8
St. Timothy's Episcopal Church
Parkway Drive off Knollwood between Stratford and Hawthorne Roads

Great Buys & Low Prices
Tax deductible items and volunteer help appreciated

Crafts, Christmas items, baked goods, furniture, lots of clothes (all sizes), books,
toys, housewares and flea market items
Raffle and Door Prizes

For more information call 768-1493
Proceeds to Lupus Research, Education & Patient Support

Close-Up

From Page A6

The down spell only lasted for a minute because the next minute Andre was all smiles again and talking about his favorite subject.

"I told this boy the other day, 'Whenever I'm hanging around girls, do not come near me,' because I love talking to girls," he said.

Andre's charm and wit have made him a favorite of many people.

"He's such a charming boy and a good example of how United Way money can be used to someone's potential," Geni Smith of United Way said. "He sort of represents the spirit of United Way."

Judy Freeman, director of the Children's Center, said that Andre's family has been a driving force behind him.

"You couldn't find a more lovely family who cooperates with what we have tried to do at the Children's Center," Mrs. Freeman said. "They are so supportive and care so much about Andre."

Despite a few learning problems brought on by his condition, Mrs. Freeman said that she believes that Andre, with his personality and talent, will end up doing a lot of different things in life.

"He's a typical child," she said. "He gets in scuffles with the best of them. He's just a normal youngster who happens to have a few limitations. But he won't let these limitations stop him."

Andre's mother, Gwen Fulp, had two words to describe her son -- "a mess."

"Andre has brought so much joy to my life," she said. "He just puts a smile your face. He can be mischievous, but I wouldn't take nothing for him."

Mrs. Fulp described her son as very independent. He does household chores like making up his bed and folding clothes, she said.

"Andre detests the word handicap," she said. "He says, 'I can do anything anybody else can do.'"

Mrs. Fulp said that she is employed at R.J. Reynolds Tobacco Co., and her husband, George, works in research and development at RJR Nabisco.

Andre has three brothers, George Fulp III, 26, Barry, 25, and Bryan, 16.

"I call him my angel," Mrs. Fulp said. "But he's spoiled to death."

The angel may have to work a little harder for his wings. With the interview over and the time to return to the classroom approaching, Andre looked around slyly before asking the reporter for more questions so he could stay out of class longer.

The Loan That Gets You Up To 35,000 Feet.

Before you borrow from any other bank, S&L or finance company, you should know this about NCNB's LineOne® Equity:

- 1) You may qualify for more than you think; up to $100,000 or more, or 100% of the equity in your home.
- 2) Your interest rate may be lower than you think; as low as NCNB's Prime Rate plus 1/2%.
- 3) If you like, pay only the interest each month.
- 4) And you may qualify for some amount without an appraisal.

What's more, right now, you can use the equity in your home for a two-way takeoff. First, when you get a LineOne Equity line of credit from us, you get discounts on fares to anywhere Piedmont Airlines flies. Which takes in a lot of territory, since Piedmont now flies to 106 cities.

Secondly, with the new tax law, you can still take off the interest you pay on home equity loans in many cases—something you may not be able to do with other types of loans. (Under some circumstances, it may even make sense to consolidate your other debt in a Home Equity Loan.)

Now, some other banks may offer this kind of loan, but there's only one bank in the neighborhood that also offers you this way to go places. You can get complete details on this offer at any NCNB office, so come see us or just call Phone-A-Loan at 1-800-342-9701. But hurry. Don't miss your plane.

NCNB's Prime Rate is the rate announced by NCNB from time to time as its "Prime Rate." Although the LineOne Equity interest rate based on NCNB's Prime Rate may vary, on October 1, 1986 the Annual Percentage Rate was 8.0%. The current LineOne Equity rate is available at any NCNB office.

Equal Housing Lender

Member FDIC

JOBS/TRAINING
Human Services Dept.
222 Liberty St.
(Foundry Building)
727-8004