Jackson, joined by Los Angeles City Councilmen Nate Holden, left, and Richard Alatorre, right, was fasting and calling on consumers and grocers to boycott pesticide-sprayed California table grapes.

'Family Pictures' album display at SECCA

The "Family Pictures" of photographer Sally Mann will be on view at SECCA in Gallery A from Sept. 9 to Nov. 6.

The 23 photographs in the exhibition are of Ms. Mann's children, a boy, a girl and a new baby.

The Village Voice, commenting on Ms. Mann's photographs, wrote

"...for the most unsettling and arresting photos around go see Sally Mann's family pictures. Mann's subjects are her small children...

Often shot when they're sick or hurt or just naked. Nosebleeds, cuts, hives, chicken pox, swollen eyes, vomiting -- the usual trials of childhood -- can be alarmingly beautiful, thrilling, sensual moments in Mann's portrait album."

Ms. Mann observed, "This series is made in an attempt to deal with my often contradictory, occasionally ambivalent feelings about motherhood."

Ms. Mann received a Guggenheim Foundation grant in 1987, a National Endowment for the Arts Fellowship in 1982 and a Virginia Museum Professional Fellowship in 1982.

"Ready-Mades," an exhibition highlighting everyday "found" objects will be on view at SECCA from Sept. 16 to Nov. 13 in Gallery B.
