Organizers try 'something new'

This year, McDonald's and the state representative of the American Double Dutch League, Mattie Peebles, decided to try "something new."

Saturday, April 8, the McDonald's restaurants on Akron and Martin Luther King drives and Waughtown Street set the stage for the double dutch teams to jump rope and demonstrate their skills and enthusiasm. The rain Saturday did not stop the jumpers nor slow them down. The teams had planned the event and they were not going to let the weather interfere with their plans.

Some team members jumped in the rain and at Akron Drive they jumped inside McDonald's.

The teams gave balloons to their audience and, through donations, raised more than $230. They plan to use the money raised to help pay for their trip to the national double dutch finals in West Palm Beach, Fla.

The 1989 double dutch semi-final tournament will be held May 13 from 12:30 to 4 p.m. at Hanes Hosiery Recreation Center.

McMan Inc, a local McDonald's franchisee, co-sponsors the double dutch semi-final tournament held each year at Hanes Hosiery. McDonald's has been a sponsor since 1983.

Marisha Goolsby

Goolsby crowned Miss Hospitality

Marisha Levette Goolsby was crowned Miss Hospitality 1989 at the 18th annual Miss North Carolina National Teen-ager Pageant held March 25 in Raleigh.

She was crowned by Kelly Allison, Miss Hospitality 1988. Marisha was presented with a cash award of $250 and will have the opportunity to host the 1990 pageant.

The 15-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Keaton, Marisha is a freshman at Carver High School. She was sponsored by Oak Grove Baptist Church, of which she is a member, the Walkertown Tire Shop and Camel City Bowling Club.

Marisha expressed her appreciation for everyone in the community that supported her during the pageant.

Local youth win in Optimist International Oratorical Contest

Rahasan Baker, 15, and Carla Aldan Fulton, 14, won the boys' and girls' divisions of the Optimist International Oratorical Contest.

The contest was sponsored by the East Winston Noon Optimist Club. Each winner will progress to the zone competition in Salisbury. Zone winners will compete at a district competition in Charlotte for $1,500 scholarships.

The local winners addressed the topic, "Challenge the Summit."

Amy Margaret Queen captured second place in the girls' division; Brian Lewis was the second place finisher in the boys' competition. Shree Eldridge and Molanda Yaveffe Pace received runner-up medallions.

Judges for the contest were Elwanda Ingram, associate professor of English at Winston-Salem State University; Angela Wright, managing editor of the Winston-Salem Chronicle; and Katherine Premo, financial analyst for RJR Tobacco-USA.

Larry J. Brown was the timekeeper and Jackie Efejuku provided coaching assistance.

The event marked the fifth year that the club has sponsored the oratorical contest. A total of $150,000 in scholarship prize money is awarded annually to oratorical contest winners by Optimist International throughout the United States and Canada.
