AKAs to sponsor AIDS Rap-a-Thon

The Phi Omega Chapter of Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority Inc. is in the planning stages of sponsoring an AIDS Rap-A-Thon in light of the growing proportion of AIDS cases among teen-agers in the state and community. The "Rap-A-Thon" will be held Saturday, June 10, from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. at the Rupert Bell Recreation Center.

The "Rap-A-Thon" will be opened to teen-agers ages 13 to 18, who are currently enrolled in school. The teens are encouraged to develop raps that discuss the facts about AIDS, its spread and its prevention. The deadline for applications is May 3.

Applications may be picked up at the main branch and the East Winston libraries, the NAACP Learning Centers, the Urban League and local school libraries. First, second and third place prizes will be $500, $200 and $100 respectively.

With the steady cuts in federal funds targeted for social welfare programs, the sorority feels that the community is charged with the responsibility to provide the necessary resources to save the destiny and future of youth.

Zion's Jones to celebrate eighth anniversary

The Rev. Joseph Jones, pastor of Zion Memorial Baptist Church, will celebrate his eighth anniversary Sunday, April 23.

The guest speaker for the 11 a.m. service will be Dr. Alton Pollard, a professor at Wake Forest University. Following the morning worship, an acknowledgement program and dinner will be held in the church's fellowship hall.

Jones attended the University of Tennessee where he graduated with a bachelor of science degree in electrical engineering. He attended Piedmont Bible College and Shaw Divinity School where he received a master of divinity degree. He currently is enrolled in a doctoral program at Boston University and is pursuing a doctorate of ministry degree.

Jones is a member of the Home Mission Board with the Progressive National Convention, an executive board member of the Board of Visitors of Shaw Divinity School, an executive board member of the Victims Assistance Program of Forsyth County, a member of the Lott Carey Baptist Foreign Mission Convention, the General Baptist State Convention, Olympic Lodge #795, Prince Hall Masons and holds memberships in various other organizations.

Jones and his wife, Althea, have two daughters.

Rhomania Queen

Bernice L. Sanders was crowned queen of the Alpha Mu Sigma Rhomania Ball on Saturday, April 15. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Norman C. Sanders Jr. and a freshman at Mount Tabor High School. Her escort was Rico Garner. First runner-up was Kristin Gregory, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Gregory; second runner-up was Dovetta Hairston, daughter of Basil Hairston. Evelyn Sanders was chairwoman of the ball.

Mount Pleasant observes Summers' second anniversary

Mount Pleasant Baptist Church celebrated the second anniversary of its pastor, the Rev. Douglas E. Summers, Sunday, April 16.

Summers is a 1980 graduate of Winston-Salem State University and has a bachelor of arts degree in history. He completed further study at the Hood Theological Seminary in Salisbury and at the Southern Baptist Theological Seminary in Wake Forest, where he received his master of divinity degree.

In addition to serving as the pastor of Mount Pleasant, Summers also is the assistant chaplain with the Forsyth Prison Chaplaincy.

The Rev. Joseph Jones and members of Zion Memorial Baptist Church were the special guests at the 3 p.m. service.

Ruby Epperson was planning committee chairwoman.

Cedric Brown inducted into UNC-Chapel Hill's oldest, highest honorary society

Cedric Levon Brown has been inducted into the Order of the Golden Fleece, the oldest and highest honorary society at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill.

Brown was one of 21 juniors, seniors and graduate students and six honorary members inducted in a 7 p.m. ceremony Friday, April 7, in Bowles Hall.

Golden Fleece members are chosen for their exceptional contributions to the university community. The order was established at UNC-Chapel Hill in 1903 and began tapping women in 1972.

Brown is the son of Richard and Carolyn Rice of Pfafftown.

A senior, he is majoring in public policy analysis. While at Carolina, he has been active in the campus Y, the Ebony Readers, UNITAS and the Black Student Movement. Brown has received several honors including the 1988 Ernest Mackie Chancellor's Award, Most Outstanding Junior Man Award, the Order of Old Well, Order of Graif.

Brown plans to attend Stanford University after his graduation from UNC-Chapel Hill.

Marshall B. Bass

Bass to speak at UNCG student reception

Marshall B. Bass, a former senior vice president for corporate affairs with RJR Nabisco, will speak on "Success and Competitiveness" at 7 p.m. Monday, April 24, during a reception held by the newly formed Black Business Students Association at the University of North Carolina at Greensboro.

The event is open to the public at no charge and will be held in the Virginia Dare Room of the UNC-G Alumni House.

The reception is a community business leaders to meet with student members of the association, which was formed earlier this semester in the Joseph M. Bryan School of Business and Economics.

Bass has been a consultant to the chairman and chief executive officer and other senior managers of RJR Nabisco.

He joined the company in 1968 as manager of personnel development after 23 years in the U.S. Army. He was elected a corporate vice president in 1982.

In February 1986, he was promoted to corporate public affairs officer. In April of that same year, he was named senior vice president and in September was named senior vice president for corporate affairs.

Reservations can be made by calling the Bryan School at 334-5052.
