Newspaper Features Council announces minority scholarship contest for cartoonists

The Newspaper Features Council Inc. is conducting a nationwide minority cartoon contest providing the winner with a $6,500 one year scholarship to the Joe Kubert School of Cartoon and Graphic Art in Dover, N.J., for the 1989/90 school year.

"There is a tremendous need for more focus on minorities in this industry," said John P. McMeel, NFC president. "It is important for the work of minorities to be recognized and encouraged. By sponsoring and funding the Minority Scholarship Award, the Newspaper Features Council is providing the opportunity for a minority to study cartooning with the goal of becoming a professionally syndicated cartoonist."

Screening of entries will be done at the school and the final judging will be done by a panel of distinguished cartoonists and editors from the Council.

The deadline for entries is Aug. 7 and the winner will be notified before Aug. 31. The nine other finalists will be notified by mail.

The definition of a minority is a person who is designated by the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission as being, i.e., black, Hispanic, Asian/Pacific Islander.

Participants must be high school graduates.

A copy of the rules and regulations may be obtained by written Catherine Walker, NFC, Ward Castle, Comly Avenue, Rye Crook, N.Y., 10573.

Local players compete in Richmond

By RUDOLPH V. BOONE
Special to the Chronicle

Several local bridge players were in Richmond, Va., this past weekend participating in the Mid Atlantic Sectional Tournament June 30 to July 3.

All local players are preparing for the upcoming Annual Grade "B" Tournament Saturday, July 22, sponsored by the Kings and Queens Duplicate Bridge Club. Out-of-town players are expected to compete. More details will be published later.

Results of the nationwide benefit game held June 2 recently were released by Gloria Christler, national executive secretary of the American Bridge Association, in her monthly bulletin.

The good news is that two local players placed in the top 12 winners of that game. Rosetta Hauser and Andrew Wilks tied for seventh, eighth and ninth places with pairs from New York and Seattle.

Mrs. Hauser and Mr. Wilks scored 174.9.

Daniel Requard and Joan Williams of Chicago finished first in the nation with 196.4 points. They were the overall winners and the overall winners/handicap.

Mrs. Hauser and Mr. Wilks placed eighth in the overall winners/handicap with a score of 178.2

Winners at the Tuesday, June 27, Winston-Salem Duplicate Bridge Club meeting were:

Pauline Caldwell and Mavis H. Lloyd.

Winners of the Kings and Queens game last Thursday will be published next week.

Eastern Music Festival schedules presentation of the Eastern Philharmonic Orchestra at the Stevens Center

The Eastern Music Festival will present its Eastern Philharmonic Orchestra in concert at the Stevens Center Friday, July 21, at 8:15 p.m.

The concert will mark the fourth annual performance of the Festival's resident professional orchestra in Winston-Salem.

Sheldon Morgenstern, EMF music director, will conduct Brahm's "Symphony No. 2," "Bernstein's "Overture to Candide" and "Symphony No. 2."

The guest pianist will be Andre-Michel Schub.

Schub is the grand prize winner of the 1981 Van Cliburn International Competition and has appeared as a soloist with the world's leading orchestras. He is a favorite with audiences of public television and has toured extensively throughout Europe, Japan and Australia.

The Stevens Center concert is being sponsored by Forsyth Partners and 88.5 FM WFDD Public Radio with additional support from the Arts Council of Forsyth County Inc.

Tickets are available at the Stevens Center or the EMF office.
