LeMoyné Owen coach Jerry Johnson plots backcourt strategy with guard Paul Wooten.

house, 35-34. After that, however, it was all "House, who administered a 49-28 blistering in the second half to win going away, 82-67.

Miles reached the final round by disposing of Alabama A&M in the semis. The Bears held a slight 46-45 edge at intermission, then bolted to a 90-85 win.

Watson and Beaty sizzled in the spotlight, burning the Bulldogs for 52 points collectively. Freeman did some damage too - 16 points, 10 rebounds and Darden added 12 points to the cause.

A&M got 18 points from Rubin Kizer and 15 from Cedric Woolverton. Prime-time post player Fredrick Clemon had 14 points and 16 rebounds. James Springfield (13 points) and Marc Lacy (10 points, seven rebounds) rounded out the double digits scoring for the Dogs.

LeMoyné Owen won the consolation game with a 114-101 victory over A&M. John Boyd (10 of 16 shooting from the field) and Wooten lit up the scoresheets with 27 points each, while Tolbert and Perry snatched every rebound in sight. Tolbert had 13 points and 14 caroms and Perry scored 12 and pulled down a game-high 19 rebounds. Mitchell contributed 14 points.

Even though Tolbert and Perry did some outstanding work on the glass, the Magicians as a team, were badly outrebounded (70-58). The saving grace came via free throws. LMO shot 36 free throws while the Dogs had only six freebie attempts.

Lacy led A&M with 17 points. Derek Hendrix (10 rebounds) and Dionne Rambus added 15 points each and Woolverton had 14. Anthony Carter totaled 10 points and 11 boards. Kizer also finished with 10.
