Home Ownership Education

On Monday, Feb. 15, Forsyth Technical Community College will begin taking applications for a new course designed to provide a step-by-step guide to purchasing a home. Pre-Homeownership education will be part of the continuing education courses offered for the spring quarter. It is aimed primarily at first-time home buyers, especially low to moderate income families, who are interested in the details involved in purchasing and owning a home. Current homeowners who are considering trading up will also find this course helpful.

The course will be taught on Monday nights from 7 to 9 p.m. for five weeks beginning March 1. Participants will learn how to evaluate their housing needs and set up a budget for homeownership. They will also learn the basic eligibility criteria required by lending institutions and explore flexible lending programs and alternative financing options.

Eight modules will be taught for a total of ten hours and will include instruction in the art of negotiating and financing the new home; understanding the basics of home maintenance and energy conservation; identifying housing assistance programs in the area to provide individual counseling if needed; obtaining and interpreting a credit report; preparing for closing and other costs and avoiding defaults and foreclosures.

Preregistration is required and begins Monday, Feb. 15.

BECAUSE ONLY BY CELEBRATING CULTURE CAN WE HOPE TO INSPIRE ART.

Whether made with words, images or music, art resonates through African-American life. Recording our experience, revealing our humanity, depicting our soul. It can soothe or excite, enlighten or entertain, constantly compelling us to look and listen.

At Kraft General Foods, we're proud to help bring the visions and sounds of ethnic culture to the community. Not only helping people to experience the art of others, but inspiring the artists themselves.

Because only through the celebration of art can we begin to understand what makes us human.
