

Kids Sport Thoughts

This future basketball player appears to be saying: "Big deal, I could have made that shot with my eyes closed and never had to put down my bottle."

State Games to Be Held

The 1993 State Games of North Carolina will be held in Durham, this year June 24 through 27 and is designed to involve youngsters ages 11-18.

It was announced by Winkie La Force, president of North Carolina Amateur Sports (NCAS), the non-profit organization that produces the annual athletic competition for all ages and skill levels.

The first-ever State Games was held in New York in 1978. By 1992, 42 states had joined this national movement along with over 500,000 athletes who participate annually across the United States.

The 1993 Regional host cities prior to the State Games will be Asheville, Raleigh and Jacksonville, which will take place June 11, 12 and 13.

Surrounding counties that will compete in the Western Asheville Regionals are: Forsyth, Stokes, Davidson, Stanly, Union, Rowan, Davie, Yadkin, Surry, Wilkes, Alleghany and Cabarrus.

Competing in the Central Raleigh Regionals are surrounding counties: Guilford, Rockingham, Randolph, Montgomery, and Anson.

The sports represented in the games may change annually; however, here is a list of sports included for the 1993 games: baseball, youth basketball, bowling, cycling, equestrian, figure skating, golf, gymnastics, ice hockey, karate, sailing, shooting, soccer, softball, sporting clays, swimming, table tennis, taekwondo, tennis, track & field, volleyball and wrestling. Athletics will be contacted through the school system, Boys & Girls Club, YMCA, and youth organizations.
