Questions & Answers on recovering from grief

Q. My teenage daughter was killed by a drunk driver on the night of her senior prom. I can't tell you how many friends and relatives have said to me, "I know how you feel." Why does that make me so angry? I know they mean well. A. They say that to comfort you, to let you know that they too have suffered. They say this and other thoughtless remarks because they don't know what else to say. You are right in knowing they mean well.

Questions asked during bereavement classes are answered by the editor of AFTERLOSS. For a free copy of one of our new little booklets, Grief is a Process, Not an Event or "I Never Know What To Say!" please call or stop by.
