

AME Church to Celebrate Centennial

St. Paul African Methodist Episcopal Church of Raleigh will host the Annual Conference and Centennial Celebration of the A.M.E. Church in Western North Carolina May 19-23.

Founded in 1787 by Richard Allen, the A.M.E. Church continues to uphold the tradition of religious worship and strong positive contributions to society. "Models of Ebony Excellence," whose lives reflect the vision and legacy of the A.M.E. church, will be recognized during the celebration.

The five-day event will include worship services, panel discussions and workshops. Highlighting the celebration will be talks by a number of inspirational community, political and business leaders.

Among them will be Joseph Lowery, president of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference;

William C. Turner of Duke Divinity School; J.D. Lewis of WRAL-TV; Kathryn M. Brown, Connection Lay president, A.M.E. Church; Jeremiah Wright of Trinity United Church of Christ in Chicago; Lonise Bias; and Bishop H. Hartford Brookins, presiding bishop of the Second Episcopal District.

The 72 member churches of the Western Conference will gather in remembrance of the past.
