▲ Graduation Held

The Mt. Zion Child Development Center held graduation for 28 preschoolers on June 12 in the File-Goodwin Enrichment Center. The theme was "If It Is to Be, It Is Up to Me." Over 250 people attended.

Gloria Jones, center supervisor, urged the graduates to set goals and strive to be the best.

Reginald Glenn Jr., a 1991 graduate, and Roman Irvin and Reginald Frost, 1992 graduates, gave the welcome and greetings.

The 2-year-olds performed "The Busy Ant" song. Betsy Torrence, a teacher, and Selena Davenport, a resource teacher, assisted.

The 3-year-olds sang "He's Got the Whole World" with teacher Christine Lockhart.

The 4-year-olds acted out "Little Miss Muffin" with teacher Gail Williams.

Debbie Moore, a teacher's aide, assisted all age groups.

Parents presented a plaque to Jones in recognition of her dedication to the center and students.

The center's first yearbook was dedicated to Helen W. Falls, chairman of the Child Development Committee of Mt. Zion. Clark Gaither, vice chairman, received the dedication for Falls, who was not present.

Local merchants receiving yearbook sponsorship certificates were: Kelvin Gates, owner of Winston-Salem Tees Inc.; Harden Richards of Richards Photography and Art Gallery; Annie Hairston of African Imagery Inc.; and Nell Britton of Portrait of a Button Inc. Britton is the publisher of the yearbook.

Several parents were recognized for their volunteer time and service. Mrs. Solomon, a long-time member of Mt. Zion, received special recognition for her love and support.
