Salem College to Host Organ Recital

The Salem College School of Music will host a recital by the students of John and Margaret Mueller, professors of organ, Monday, Nov. 8 at Shirley Recital Hall in the Salem Fine Arts Center. The Winston-Salem Chapter of the American Guild of Organists is sponsoring the recital to encourage young people to study organ and to enter the field of church music. The recital is free to the public.

The following students from Salem College, the Salem College Community Music School, and the North Carolina School of the Arts will perform: Steve Wooddell, Keith Whitted, Erica Johnson, Robertson Ferguson, Larnie Yuson, Thomas Manning, Rebecca Sears, James Gregory, Brandon Clayton, Kay Spencer, Carlise Linker, Jennifer Yuson, Marie Bellin, and Joy Milan.

Fall Concert

The Piedmont Symphonic Wind Ensemble will perform under the direction of Robert Simon at Hanes Auditorium in the Fine Arts Center of Salem College on Sunday, Nov. 7 at 7:30 p.m.

For their fall concert the Piedmont Symphonic Wind Ensemble will perform a variety of exciting classic works for wind ensemble highlight by Percy Grainger's Lincolnshire Posy. Since its debut in 1937, Lincolnshire Posy has become the pinnacle of wind band literature. Other works to be included are: The Force of Destiny by Verdi, Suite of Old American Dances by Bennett, From Every Horizon by DeLo Joio, Leemans-March of the Belgian Paratroopers and King's heart stirring "Barnum and Bailey's Favorite".

Tickets will be available at the door for $5, students and seniors for $3. Group rates are available.

For more information call Robert Simon at 722-9953.

Free Concert

Trombonist Robert Trowers, a feature musician with the Count Basie Band, will perform in a free concert with the Winston-Salem State University Jazz Ensemble at 8 p.m., Wednesday, Nov. 10, in the Albert H. Anderson Center auditorium.

Trowers, who at one time was a member of the Lionel Hampton Orchestra, has also appeared in concert with pianist Bobby Short. His latest compact disc, "Synopsis," is recorded on the Concord Jazz label.

For more information, call David Legette at 750-2530.

Jackson Promoted

Birdies Jackson of Winston-Salem and new president of NCA-HAM (North Carolina Assoc. of Healthcare and Admitting Managers), attended the 3rd National Annual Government Relations Symposium on Oct 14 & 15 in Alexandria, Va. Representatives from hospital all across the country were in attendance.
