

CIAA MEN'S ROUNDUP

N.C. Central Clinches Southern Title

North Carolina Central clinched the CIAA Southern Division by routing Livingstone 104-60 and beating Johnson C. Smith 82-71. Five players scored in double figures against Livingstone, led by guard Levelle Moton's 16 points.

The Eagles have actually clinched a tie for the title, but have beaten rivals Johnson C. Smith and Fayetteville State in head-to-head games.

Virginia Union won all three of its games last week, defeating Virginia State, 102-64; St. Augustine's, 100-53; and Norfolk State 86-73. The Panthers have moved into a first-place tie with Elizabeth City State in the Northern Division, thanks to CIAA Player of the Week Warren Peebles. Peebles had 66 points and dished out 23 assists, including 12 against St. Augustine's. Troy Phillips added 45 points while pulling down 26 rebounds.

Elizabeth City State had its third straight undefeated week, defeating St. Paul's 85-73; Bowie State 92-75; and Virginia State 93-84. Senior guard Shawn Walker scored 66 points during the week, including 11 three-point baskets. Nate Higgs had 61 points and 27 rebounds for ECSU, highlighted by a 8-for-9 performance against Bowie. Maurice Barnett had 41 points and an impressive 26 blocks during the week.

Fayetteville State moved behind Central in the Southern Division by defeating Livingstone 83-71 and edging Shaw 96-95. FSU's Carl Chasten, Jerome Oliver and Donald Peetee each scored 28 points for the week. Chasten and Peetee each had 3 three-point shots against Livingstone.

St. Paul's won two of its three games last week, posting wins over Bowie State 104-96 and Hampton 71-69 before losing to ECSU. Tim King had 60 points over three games, followed by Darrell Townes with 44.

Shaw lost two of its three games last week. The Bears slipped past Winston-Salem State 73-72 before losing 82-71 to non-conference foe Claflin and to FSU. Junior guard Roderick Owens scored 49 points for the week, followed by Donnell Pauldo's 31.

Hampton split both of its games to move into fourth place in the Northern Division, upsetting Norfolk State 81-68 before falling to St. Paul's 71-69. Senior forward David Saunders scored 21 points and had 11 rebounds in the Pirates upset.

Winston-Salem State lost its first two games of the week before bouncing back to defeat Johnson C. Smith Saturday. The Rams were clipped by Shaw before losing to Mid-Eastern Athletic Conference foe North Carolina A&T 83-66. WSSU rebounded, however, to defeat the Golden Bulls 87-78.

Freshman guard Phenizee Ransom scored 60 points with Louis

Williamson adding 46. Patrick Heron, the CIAA's leader in assists, had 33 for the week.

After winning its first game of the season, Livingstone lost three more games last week. The Bears lost 73-62 to non-conference foe Catawba, FSU and N. C. Central. Amodou Tourmay scored 49 points for the week.

Norfolk State was one of four teams not winning a game last week, losing to Hampton and Virginia Union. Corey Williams was one of the few highlights in the week, scoring 21 points and grabbing 10 rebounds against Hampton.

Virginia State lost to Virginia Union and to ECSU to fall to 8-12 overall. Torrairie Sears had 38 points in the two contests and had 18 rebounds and Todd Peay with 40 points. The Trojans' Kevin Holleman stood out with a 17-point, 13-rebound effort against ECSU.

Bowie State lost to St. Paul's and to ECSU to fall to 0-6 in their division. Brian Brooks scored 67 points in the two games, hitting 10-of-14 shots against ECSU for 34 points. Kevin Purnell had 21 points, 19 rebounds and 3 blocks against St. Paul's.

St. Augustine's lost in its only game of the week, losing to Virginia Union. Johnson C. Smith dropped both of its games, losing to WSSU and to Central. Shawn Jackson led the Golden Bulls with 42 points and 20 rebounds.

CIAA WOMEN'S ROUNDUP

Shaw Upsets FSU; Norfolk Defeated

Three schools had undefeated weeks: Shaw, Virginia Union and St. Augustine's.

Shaw won both of its games last week, posting wins over Winston-Salem State 73-49 and Southern Division-leading Fayetteville State 89-61. Leslie Clark led the Lady Bears with 31 points and 15 rebounds over the two games. Tongia Holley and Wanda Wade scored 25 and 22 points, respectively.

Virginia State won three games this week, climbing to third in the Northern Division. The Trojanettes defeated Virginia Union 85-65; upset Northern Division-leading Norfolk State 82-76; and Elizabeth City State 89-61. VSU shot 69 percent versus Norfolk and posted a 50-29 halftime lead. The Trojanettes were led by Kathleen Davis' 23 points against Norfolk and Kendra White scored 66 points in the three games.

St. Augustine's won both of its games last week, defeating N. C. Central 86-68 and Virginia Union 79-69. Denise Holden led the Lady Falcons with 39 points in the two contests, while Kimberly Hawkins chipped in with 29. St. Augustine's now occupies third place in the Southern Division.

Norfolk State won two of three games last week, defeating Hampton 71-63 and Virginia Union 84-57 before losing its conference game to Virginia State. CIAA Player of the Week LaTina Bullock scored 55 points in the three games, highlighted by a 24-point, 12-rebound effort against VSU. Kristie Green added 55 points and 27 rebounds. Rolanda Dent 43 points and Lisa Rice 30 points and 23 rebounds.

Bowie State won two of its three games, bouncing back from a 56-53 loss to St. Paul's with wins over Elizabeth City State (76-58) and Wesley College (89-28) in a non-conference matchup. Brandy Lemons scored 45 points with Yetisha Mackey and Shaunte Matthews 39 each.

N. C. Central lost to St. Augustine's before defeating Johnson C. Smith 98-66 and Livingstone 76-67. Central forced 33 Smith turnovers and had five players in double figures, led by Monica Stewart's 26 points. Stewart had 63 points in the three games, followed by Michelle Harrison's 41.

Fayetteville State lost its first division game of the season to Shaw, before beating Livingstone 78-53. The Lady Broncos shot only 28 percent from the field against Shaw. Alvia Williams led all Lady Broncos with 31 points and collecting 19 rebounds.

Johnson C. Smith split two games last week, losing to N. C. Central before defeating Winston-Salem State 69-59. Senior forward Mildred Coley led Smith with 17 points and 18 rebounds against WSSU and had 30 points and 33 rebounds over two games.

Hampton lost two three games last week, losing to Norfolk State and Columbia Union 79-68. The Lady Pirates, however, overcame a 33-19 halftime deficit to defeat St. Paul's 63-54 by shooting 73 percent in the second half. Shani Bauldrick led Hampton with 40 points and 27 rebounds.

St. Paul's defeated Bowie State before falling to Elizabeth City State 54-46 and Hampton. The Lady Tigers were led by Linda Bell's 46 points, with Michelle Nhambara and Roslyn Stevens also scoring 27 each.

Elizabeth City State won only one of its three games, defeating St. Paul's before falling to Bowie State and to VSU. Karen Watkins led the Lady Vikings with 46 points and 37 rebounds. Against Shaw, she had 24 points and 16 rebounds.

Three teams did record a victory: Winston-Salem State, Virginia Union and Livingstone. Livingstone is still searching for its first win of the year, losing to Fayetteville State, N. C. Central and a non-conference game against Catawba, 97-68. Barbara Barfield scored 39 points and had 32 rebounds for the week, while Kellee Dillard had 31 points.

Winston-Salem State, which hasn't won a game since Jan. 18, lost three games last week. The Lady Rams lost to Mid-Eastern Athletic Conference-member North Carolina A&T 82-43 and to Johnson C. Smith and Shaw. Kendra Home led WSSU with 48 points and 24 rebounds, with Dennetra Parker adding 31 points and 31 rebounds.

Virginia Union fell to Virginia State, St. Augustine's and Norfolk State to fall to 9-11 for the year. Amy Washington scored 24 points and had 12 rebounds against VSU and a 22-point, 12-rebound effort against St. Augustine's. Regina Fields chipped in with 41 points for the week.
