

Medical student Garfield Clunie checks the blood pressure of Robert Long while Samuel Ogle check the blood pressure of Ray Durham. The Blood Pressure Screening was held at Winston Lake YMCA.

Medical student Priscilla Taylor checks the blood pressure of W.R. Richardson while Isaac Mitchell checks the blood pressure of Clara Pellam. The screening was held at the New Hope Missionary Baptist Church.

American Heart Association Sponsors Blood Pressure Screening In Community

Target Health, a community Health Education Program of the Bowman Gray/Baptist Hospital Medical Center, and the Cultural Diversity Committee of the Forsyth County Division of the American Heart Association sponsored Blood Pressure Screenings last week at two locations in the minority community.

Screenings were held for worshippers at New Hope Missionary Baptist Church, and members of the Retired Men's Club at the Winston Lake YMCA.

The American Heart Association has initiated programs recently to emphasize the prevention of heart problems among minorities, and to involve them in research, educational programs, fund-raising and volunteering with the Association. The Cultural Diversity Committee is staging Blood Pressure Screenings and distributing literature relative to heart diseases in the minority community.

Medical students participating in the screening were Priscilla Taylor, Antonette Morrif, Isaac Mitchell, Garfield Clunie and Samuel Ogle.

Flora Oats-Williams is the community liaison person for Target Health of the Bowman Gray/Baptist Hospital Medical Center, and C.B. Hauser is co-chairperson of the Cultural Diversity Committee. You are invited to participate in the screenings when the group is in your area.

Winston Lake AAU Meeting To Be Held

Winston Lake AAU Organization Meeting will be held on Sunday March 6 at 4 p.m. at the Anderson Center on the campus of Winston-Salem State University. Volunteers, parents, friends and supporters are asked to attend. For information contact either: John Allen 765-8216 or Ike Black 725-5702.

Poster Contest Awards Winners

Thursday, Feb. 17 on the campus of Winston-Salem State University, the Campus Activities Board organization sponsored a Black History Month Poster Contest.

The purpose of the contest was for an individual or organization to create a poster focusing on the selected theme "The Black Family Reunion." The contestants exhibits to contribute to the celebration of Black History Month.

The winners were: First Place: Campus Pals; Second Place: Janet Odell; Third Place: Tony Banjoko; Honorable mentions were Melia Black and Lavelle Davis. Dorinda Patterson, a senior art major and Elaine P. Browne, director of student activities, coordinated the event to make students aware of the talent that can be exhibited through creative thought.

Queyana Woods, Campus Pal's president thought of first place winning idea. She felt that the black family reunion consisted of all of the Historically Black Colleges and Universities being branches of the free with the purpose of extending education, knowledge and culture today for the uplifting of our black families tomorrow.

Campus Pals is an organization dedicated to the purpose of helping incoming freshman and transfer students in their matriculation from their home to our home.

As your responsibilities change, so do ours.

There's a lot more to raising a family than adding a new place at the table. For most families, it's a whole new way of thinking. And one that BB&T understands.

It involves sorting out the best ways to borrow for current expenses. And the best ways to save for future ones. It also means a little extra sensitivity to the credit needs almost all growing families undergo.

So, if it seems your current bank isn't what it used to be, perhaps it's you who's done the changing.

See BB&T. A different sort of attitude. A different sort of bank.

BB&T

It's More Than A Bank.
It's An Attitude.

Since 1872

Member FDIC

Equal Housing Lender