

Spring Meeting Compliance Seminar Tops Agenda

Greensboro, N.C. — The Mid-Eastern Athletic Conference (MEAC) will hold its annual Spring Meeting May 24-27. (Tuesday through Friday) in Atlantic City, New Jersey at the TropWorld Casino and Entertainment Resort. Commissioner Ken Free and his staff will welcome the membership's Council of Chief Executive Officers (Presidents and Chancellors), Faculty Athletic Representatives, Directors of Athletics, head and assistant coaches, Sports Information Directors, and athletic trainers. Other administrators will represent offices of admissions, financial aid and registrars.

Headlining the agenda is the MEAC Spring Compliance Seminar set for Wednesday and Thursday. Selected NCAA staff members will attend to update and review legislation. The compliance sessions serve as an educational tool for the MEAC membership and initiates the Conference's 1994-95 NCAA Division I Coaches Certification Program. The MEAC will administer the written examination Thursday, May 26. All coaches who recruit off campus must be certified by August 1.

The agenda involves legislation that will increase sports sponsorship and the initial eligibility clearinghouse. The MEAC governing body will also address issues concerning the status and finalization of regular season Conference athletic schedules, television packages, the Heritage Bowl, and the basketball tournament.

Beginning September 1, 1994, a NCAA Division I member institution must sponsor seven varsity intercollegiate sports for both men and women instead of the current six.

The MEAC is an NCAA Division I Conference and its current members are: Bethune-Cookman College (Daytona Beach, Florida), Coppin State College (Baltimore, Maryland), Delaware State University (Dover, Delaware), Florida A&M University (Tallahassee, Florida), Howard University (Washington, D.C.), the University of Maryland Eastern Shore (Princess Anne, Maryland), Morgan State University (Baltimore, Maryland), North Carolina A&T State University (Greensboro), and South Carolina State University (Orangeburg, South Carolina).

Slow Start

everybody playing together, because we have so many players that come back so late in the season." Carver catcher Monte Foote said. "But when we make adjustments and get it right, we get into a groove and play well."

In a rematch against Glenn, Carver led 6-4 in the final inning before a two-out rally gave the Bobcats a 7-6 victory. It's games like that that have Starbuck shaking his head again. This time, it's how proud of how far his team has come in the past several weeks.

"We've got a chance to make some noise in the next two weeks," Starbuck said. "We've accomplished a whole lot this year with what little we've got. And I think the other teams know that."

"When I was at Glenn, the players used to say it was an easy win over us. But that isn't the case anymore. Opposing teams are throwing their best pitchers at us. That's a sign of respect."

Monte Foote

MEAC Sports Lunch to Be Held

Greensboro, N.C. — During the May 26 (Thursday) MEAC All-Sport Luncheon at the TropWorld Casino and Entertainment Resort in Atlantic City, New Jersey, Commissioner Ken Free will present the winner of the 23rd T.L. Hill and the winner of the women's eighth Mary McLeod Bethune All-Sports Awards. The awards are symbols of overall athletic excellence for each MEAC season among the member institutions. Florida A&M's men and women were the winners last year. The luncheon will be held at 1 p.m.
