Imani to Bring Caribbean Sounds Close to Home

Music is one of the true vehicles of relaxation. When our lives become too hectic a simple song, a soulful spiritual, or an uplifting tune can relieve our burden if only for a moment. Music played outside offers soothing powers on a refreshing evening. This summer we can find great pleasure in listening to music under the great open sky.

Imani will bring the sweet sounds of the Caribbean close to home on Friday, June 17th at 6:30 p.m. The sounds of reggae add a carefree feeling to the night air. ACCES, SECCA's volunteer organization, will host this evening of music by the lake. For more information, call 725-1904.

To continue this renewal process throughout the summer. The Arts Council in conjunction with The City of Winston-Salem sponsor two outdoor concert series. "Outta the Bag" and "Evening in the ented musicians bring a fresh twist to lunch. Music ranging from classical to rock and jazz to reggae will be offered at Winston Square Park through the month of June. In July (across from Dewey's Bakery).

"Evenings in the Neighborhood" is reminiscent of the days when strolling the streets and spending time with your neighbors was a tradition. During the months of July, August and September musicians of all kinds will perform in various parts of our community. The concerts are held on Monday and Wednesday at 7 p.m. and are free and open to the public. Contact The Arts Council, 722-2585, for scheduling information.

From the beginning of time, music has soothed the very heart of the savage beast. In today's society, we all need to be soothed by joyful noise. Make the choice to be renewed, refreshed and relaxed.
