St. Stephen Church to Host Men's Day

Benjamin S. Ruffin will be the 11 a.m. speaker Sunday, June 19 for Men's Day at St. Stephen Baptist Church.

The Men Choir will furnish the music. The Rev. J.R. Samuels is the host pastor.

As vice president of corporate affairs for R.J. Reynolds Tobacco Company, Ruffin leads the company's national, state and local partnerships with key minority business, civic and professional organizations. He also directs the company's minority programs in education support, business development and community involvement, drawing from his background in the civil Benjamin S. Ruffin rights movement, government and business.

In 1977, James B. Hunt Jr. asked Ruffin to join his staff as special assistant, focusing on improving education, developing workforce skills and increasing business and other opportunities for minorities in his home state. Ruffin accepted the challenge and among the accomplishments during his seven years' service to North Carolina's chief executive were increasing the number of black judges in the state and expanding the number of blacks employed in state government.

Ruffin and his wife, Avon, live in Winston-Salem and have two daughters, April and Benita.

Real Women Aren't Afraid Of Mammograms

I don't get it. Cancer specialists say the #1 reason women give for not having mammograms is fear.

Fear? Come on... What's to be afraid of? It's a fast, simple, test that could save your life. And detecting breast cancer early can make treatment easier and more effective.

So what's to be afraid of? It's not having a mammogram that's scary. Think about it. Call for an appointment today 765-5303.
