Banks to Attends Legislator's School

Kharna Irene Banks, the daughter of Phillip and Shelley Banks of Winston-Salem, has been selected to attend the Legislators' School for Youth Leadership Development at Western Carolina University.

She attends Wiley Middle School in Winston-Salem and is a rising eighth grader.

Kharna is an honor roll student. She is on the student council and has represented her class in the geography and spelling bees. She is excited and anxious to go this summer.

The Legislators' School for Youth Leadership Development offers some 300 rising eighth through twelfth graders an opportunity to develop skills in leadership, critical thinking and communication.

During their stay, students participate in academic and special interest courses in photography, journalism, computers, art, astronomy and other topics. Community service word and discussions about current issues, led by state and regional leaders, are important aspects of the program. It is funded by the General Assembly. A similar school operates at East Carolina University.
