This game was a part of the Winston-Salem Duplicate Bridge Club's annual Christmas Party. The hosts for this gala event were the Thompkins and Atty. Segers. A delicious meal was served, along with other holiday treats. The club members and one guest, Theresa Smith (New Jersey - daughter of Dr. I.C. Jordan) enjoyed an evening of fellowship food and a very competitive game of bridge. Other club members present included: Cleester Hickerson, Juanita Wynecoff, Jefferson Rollins, Vivian Rollins, Bessie Allen, Demerie Erwin, Darlene Grady, Rosalind Bell, Floyd Neal, Sarah Boone and Beverly Mitchell. Rudolph V. Boone, Sr. directed the four and one-half table game.

Most of the club members paid all or a portion of their 1996 dues. This event concluded all of the local bridge activity for the year, with the exception of a few games to be played in various homes. It was a great year for both local bridge clubs (The Kings and Queens Duplicate Bridge Club and the Winston-Salem Duplicate Bridge Club).

The officers of both clubs wish to thank all players for their support during the year and also wish for a blessed holiday and Happy New Year!

The seven years of writing this column required time, effort and commitment. A great deal of sacrifice was also necessary to do those 350 articles, missing and other readers of this weekly column who expressed appreciation and thanks for providing informative data relating to bridge and players of the game, especially local participants. Winston-Salem is well aware of "Who's Who In Local Bridge"

BRIDGE NEWS

By RUDOLPH V. BOONE

only one week (visiting our daughter, Sharon and her daughter, Khori in Atlanta, Ga.)

There writer directed bridge games on many Mondays, as well as his regular club games on Tuesday nights (at the Winston Lake Family YMCA), in addition to fulfilling responsibilities with his church, fraternity, community club, senior citizens club, precinct and Retire School Personnel organization. There are no regrets for all the work done. In fact, there is a feeling of "mission accomplished!"

There are many people to thank for the opportunity and success of this effort. First, Ernie Pitt, publisher of the Winston-Salem Chronicle and his professional staff are appreciated and thanked for providing the space, plus all of the other elements that produced each article. Thanks also to my wife, Sarah for tolerating my consumption of so much time in preparing and delivering the articles. Thanks to Ruth Washington, Charles Gadson, Billie Matthews and Pauline Caldwell for providing game results, other information and materials that helped in making the articles newsworthy, authentic and updated.

Thanks to the many players because of this column. Thanks to all who purchase weekly copies of the Winston-Salem Chronicle and share it with others. This is, without a doubt, the news of the African-American community, and therefore ought to be supported fully by African-Americans. Thanks to those out-of-towners who have gotten enjoyment from reading this column.

Many have expressed this sentiment. Some have gotten ideas and used them in their respective towns and cities. Thanks to anyone who was not mentioned in this or other articles, for your appreciation, support and encouragement over the years!

The writer realizes the fact that there have been many mistakes printed in these articles, and he apologizes for those made by him.

As an encouragement to those who are afraid to make mistakes, do keep in mind, the fact... persons who make the most mistakes are those who do the most work."

My next article will be my last one, so until then here's hoping each of you have had A Joyous and Blessed Holiday Season, but keep in mind the reason for the season! Happy New Year to All!!!
