Knollwood Baptist Bible/Sunday school classes consider building Habitat home

The Men's Bible Class at Knollwood Baptist Church and Sunday School Classes 1 and 3 at Mt. Zion Baptist have studied and broken bread and fellowshiped together during the current year. At a recent meeting, they considered the possibility of showing "God's Love in Action" by building/sponsoring a Habitat for Humanity Home.

On Sept. 22, they considered what is involved in such an undertaking at a breakfast held at Mt. Zion. The classes invited Linda N. Dekle, Lester Ervin and Avon Harding to speak at the meeting where they discussed the project.

Dekle is the CEO of Habitat for Humanity of Forsyth County. Harding is a member of the Board of Directors of Habitat for Humanity for Forsyth County. Harding and Ervin are members of the Highland Avenue First Baptist Church. First Baptist and Wake Forest University Baptist Church have built a Habitat for Humanity Home.

Habitat for Humanity of Forsyth County was organized in 1985. It had constructed 50 homes by July 1996. It will build 10 more by the end of 1996. Habitat for Humanity urges churches, businesses and other groups to sponsor the building of a particular house by furnishing volunteer labor and funds.

To be eligible for a Habitat for Humanity House, a person must:

- be a member of a family of at least three persons
- have had a stable income for at least 18 months
- have lived in Forsyth County for at least 12 months
- be within the income guidelines
- have reasonably good credit
- be living in overcrowded or insubstantial housing
- be willing to partner with Habitat to earn 250-350 "Sweat Equity Hours."

A Habitat House is the only realistic chance for virtually all families that meet the above guidelines to own a home. The mortgage payments are usually substantially less than their former rent.

Dellabrook celebrates 40th with revival

The Dellabrook Church, 115 Dellabrook Rd., will celebrate its 40th church anniversary Oct. 14-20. Revival services will be held Monday through Friday at 7 p.m. at the church. The celebration will conclude with a banquet Saturday night in the fellowship hall of Highland Presbyterian Church and with one of the former pastors delivering the word on Sunday at the 11 a.m. worship service.

The following people will be guests during the week: Monday, the Rev. William Fails and the First Baptist Church of High Point; Tuesday, the Rev. Donald Jenkins and the St. Paul United Methodist Church; Wednesday, Dr. Samuel Stevenson and the Grace Presbyterian Church; Thursday, Dr. Serenus Churn and the Mt. Zion Baptist Church. Friday, the revival services will end with the preaching presence of "the dean of black preachers," Dr. Garner C. Taylor, pastor emeritus of the Concord Baptist Church of Christ of Brooklyn, N.Y.

Saturday the banquet will begin at 7 p.m. The special guest speaker for that event will be Dr. Alton Pollard III, associate professor of religion, Wake Forest University. Music for the event will be provided by the Dynamic Carlotta Samuels-Flemming.

For more information, please call the church at 725-4274. The Rev. Carlton A.G. Eversley is the pastor.

Students unite to stay drug/violence-free

Operation Will Power was formed as the result of a mass rally held by Statement Inc. at Glenn High School in Winston-Salem. At the rally, over 600 students pledged to remain free from drugs, violence, guns, and imprisonment. Statement Inc. is a charitable, educational, nonprofit organization designed to encourage the students and citizens of the United States (as well as others within its borders) who have not been imprisoned or participated in drugs, violence, or gun use.

All schools in Forsyth County will be asked to participate in the program. Each school will be asked to compete with each other to see who can get the most pledging students.

The goal is to get 20,000 students and citizens to pledge. Their total as of press time was 632.

Laura Ellerbe, Operations Manager of Statement Inc., indicated the next mass meeting will be with Ashley Middle School. She said, "Look out Glenn: the competition is on its way."
