

Housing Authority of Winston-Salem

901 Cleveland Avenue • Winston-Salem, North Carolina

Some of the Best of 1996

▲ Happy Holidays to All from Us at HAWS

During this happy time, we can all look back and find something of value for which to give many thanks. Many have moved from emergency situations, which may have even led to homelessness, to a decent sanitary apartment in one of the several housing developments under the Housing Authority of Winston-Salem's management. Others who have the privilege of living in public housing enjoyed activities and programs that fostered a spirit of community and fellowship. Summer programs for youth offered everything from camping experiences to golf at Tanglewood Park. Our seniors and other adults were busy with various stimulating and educational activities. We took trips, had community days, staff cleaned the all of our developments, real economic development partnerships were formed, our agency's report card moved into the high performance category, and customer service remains at the heart and center of what we do here.

Much of this is because of the dedicated professionals who work a HAWS... and we could not have achieved these things without the leadership of our executive director, Arthur S. Milligan Jr. As he leaves to take on an even greater challenge, we wish him God's richest blessings. Love, Peace and Joy to each of you.

The staff of the RJR-HAWS Tutorial Program makes a presentation.

A family in Happy Hill Gardens enjoys a Thanksgiving feast sponsored by Community Outreach.

One happy pilgrim

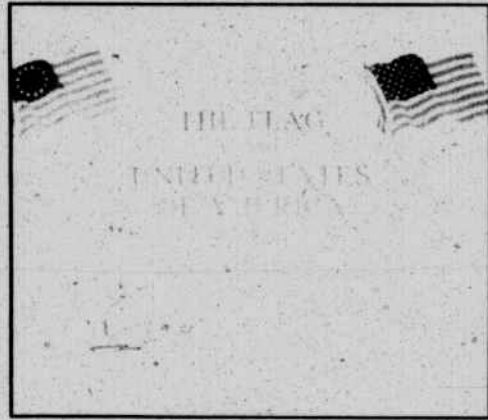

Art Milligan and Rip Wilkins share a moment to reflect on achievements.

Friendship, fun, fellowship!

Flag Dedication

Twelfth District Congressman Melvin Watt and Rep. Larry Womble team with Louise Davis, president of the Residents Council, for dedication at Sunrise Towers of this flag, once flown over the U.S. Capitol.

Renovation

Renovations at Main Street were celebrated recently. The community has been renamed Pinnacle Place.

New Equipment

Sunrise Towers receives new exercise equipment.

Clean up Effort

Staff and volunteers, pitch in to clean up.

U
M
O
J
A
D
A
Y

Umoja Day at Piedmont Park

