The unity day committee included Odell Tillery, Barbara Edwards, Evelyn Durham, Gloria Broadway, Rutherford Moorman and Arlise McKinney. The block captains were assigned to different streets. Gloria Broadway and Rita Harris were responsible for residents on Appomattox Drive. Lorraine Barringer, Amatullah Abdus Shakur, Sandra Velaquez and The Joyners helped with Harpers Ferry. Jerlene Adams led Indiana, and Mattie Gore and Pat Miller assisted with Antietam. Richard Littlejohn worked on Antietam Court, while Rutherford Moorman and Spencer D. Glenn served Bull-Run Road. Connie Mosley and Carole Poe led the residents on Chancellorsville Drive, and Mary Spruill directed residents on Chicamauga.

Many sponsors came forward to assist in this community effort: Coca-Cola, Office Depot, Kroger, Lance Wilson, Clifton Lunn, Mahogany Wade, Twan Smith, Larry Cason Jr., Anthony Davis, and Brian Hauser shared good times with friends they grew up with in the Stonewall Community.

Krispi Kreme, Food Lion, Merita Bakery, Dudley Beauty Supply, Eckerd's, East Winston CDC, Neighbors for Better Neighborhoods, McDonald's, 102 JAMZ, WAAA Radio Station, Oil Broadway, Sara Lee, Wachovia, Winston-Salem Police Department, and the Winston-Salem Parks and Recreation Department.

Derrick Gilbert, African-American consumer marketing representative of Coca-Cola Bottling Company Consolidated, was glad to support the families of the Stonewall Community. "The youth in our community are very impressionable, and this is our target market. We want to support positive images in our communities as much as possible. The youth are our future," Gilbert said.

Dorothy Shipp, who has lived in Stonewall for 18 years, was thrilled for the opportunity to come together with her neighbors. "Getting people together during these busy times is a big task," she said. "While I was growing up, it came natural. My hat goes off to all the community members."
