

Renowned educator Prezell Robinson to speak at St. Stephen's

Robinson

Dr. Prezell R. Robinson, president emeritus and Mott Distinguished Professor at Saint Augustine's College in Raleigh, will be the guest speaker at the 11 a.m. service on Sunday, Oct. 16 at Saint Stephen's Episcopal Church, 810 N. Highland Ave. in Winston-Salem. The public is invited to attend.

Robinson will participate with Saint Stephen's in its celebration of the culmination of the stewardship initiative program for 1997.

A South Carolina native, Robinson is a graduate of Saint Augustine's College and earned his master's and doctoral degrees from Cornell University, with further study at Pennsylvania State University, the University of California at Berkeley, and Harvard. He holds eight honorary doctorate degrees in humane letters, law and civil law. He joined the faculty of Saint Augustine's College as body increased from 350 to 1,850 students, from 23 countries around the world. The college endowment fund increased from $300,000 to $18,500,000, which represented the fourth-highest among the 107 member institutions in the United Negro College Fund. During his presidency, every building now on the campus was either constructed, renovated, or funded for renovations. The Reserve Officers Training Corps consistently received the highest possible rating. The National Episcopal Church in New York consistently gave St. Augustine's the largest grant given its Episcopal black colleges.

A world-renowned educator, Robinson has lectured at most universities on the west coast of Africa, South Africa, east Africa and India. He currently serves or has served on more than 50 boards or commissions on a national and international basis, including the North Carolina State Board of Education, the International Association of College Presidents, the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools, the Boy Scouts of America, the Episcopal Church Pension Fund, the Standing Committee of the Episcopal Diocese of North Carolina, and the United Negro College Fund.

Robinson has served as an envoy to foreign countries for several presidents of the United States and served as a public member ambassador to the United Nations General Assembly under both presidents Bush and Clinton.

He served his country with honors during times of war and peace. He's a churchman who has represented Episcopalians in pulpits around the globe. He's a teacher who has enlightened young and old minds around the world and a scholar who continues to challenge minds by making a contribution to the ever-expanding world of knowledge. He is a statesman whose skills in international diplomacy have earned for him praise and gratitude, not only from the president of this country, but from leaders around the world. And he is a family man who maintains the highest level of commitment to traditional Christian values.

Robinson will speak on the subject of Christian stewardship.
