

National Black Golf Hall of Fame Junior Camp to be held preparing for another run

For the seventh consecutive year the National Black Golf Hall of Fame will conduct its Junior Camp.

During the camp's first six years more than 1,500 children have participated in the program. The camp is co-sponsored by the Housing Authority of the City of Winston-Salem (HAWS).

The purpose of this program is to bring golf instruction and golf exposure to the underprivileged kids who live in the Winston-Salem area.

"We know that golf makes a more productive person," said Harold Dunovant, the program's director. "We are trying to help kids with their personal growth. We also will teach self-discipline, honor, pride and integrity."

"Golf is a game that can be played for a lifetime," according to Dunovant. "The goals for this program are to help in developing kids in the skill of golf and to teach the rules and etiquette of golf."

"We are disturbed with the way that some black youth who live in the inner city have been exposed to and involved in crime. We hope with this program to help them become more productive citizens."

Dunovant has been a golf pro for 42 years. He is a lifetime member of the Professional Golfers Association (PGA). He has been head pro at seven different golf courses throughout the United States and is considered one of the top black golf pro administrators and instructors in the country.

Evans' contract as women's basketball coach at J.C. Smith won't be renewed

From Chronicle Staff Reports

Hythia Evans, the women's basketball coach at Johnson C. Smith, has been told by Athletic Director Bill Davis that her contract will not be retained as part of the Golden Bulls' coaching staff.

Evans, a Winston-Salem State graduate, led the program for 11 seasons and compiled a 157-150 record. Her record during the 1997-98 season was 15-14. The Golden Bulls were eliminated in the first round of the 1998 CIAA Tournament by Virginia

State despite the presence of Konecka Drakeford, the Division II player of the year and national scoring champion.

Julie Hogan, who served as Evans' assistant, will also not be retained on the staff.

According to The Chronicle sources, Andrew Mitchell, the head coach of Livingstone's women's team, is the front runner to replace Evans. Mitchell served as an assistant to Steve Joyner, Smith's men's coach, before leaving to accept the head women's job at Livingstone.

Another possible candidate is Joli Robinson, North Carolina Central's women's head coach. Robinson, a Charlotte native, built a tradition of outstanding teams at Independence High before accepting the head job at NCCU.

Mitchell, a native of Salisbury, said that he has held "unofficial" talks with Smith. "We had some informal discussions," Mitchell said, "but we haven't talked about contracts. It's been more like there's an opening."

Johnson/Riley Invitational Track Meet scheduled for April 25 at Carver

The fifth annual Johnson/Riley Invitational Track Meet will be held at Carver High School's track on Saturday April 25. The meet is open to all male and female athletes from age eight and under through 18 years old.

There will also be competition in the Seniors category, for individuals aged 20 and over. There is no charge for entry in the meet and the general public is encouraged to participate.

The pre-registration will begin at 9 a.m. on April 25 and the meet will start at 10 a.m. Events include sprints, relays and jumps. Awards will go to the top three finishers in each age group.

The event is the Tri-City Relays' first meet of the season. The team is still recruiting members for the team. The team will be competing in developmental meets until the end of the school year. Once the season begins, the team will be traveling to tournaments throughout the southeast. Included in the team's itinerary are trips to Knoxville, Tenn., and Norfolk, Va. for regional and national meets.

The program is also recruiting coaches to help with the team. Anyone interested can contact Lemuel Johnson at 725-7642, Buddy Hayes at 767-0853 or Tytrone Holman at 723-0607. Registration chairperson for the meet and the track club is Mrs. Tucker, who can be contacted at 659-1642.
