

National Black Golf Hall of Fame Tournament to be held July 10-11

The 14th Annual National Black Golf Hall of Fame Golf Tournament and Induction Dinner will be held July 10-11 in Greensboro.

The golf tournament, a 36-hole, two-day event with medal play, will take place at Bel-Aire Golf Course in Greensboro on July 10-11. The tournament will consist of play in Senior Pro, Amateur, Senior Amateur, Ladies and Junior divisions. Play in the amateur division will consist of five flights, with the first four players in each flight winning merchandise.

The senior pro purse will exceed $4,000, with the winner receiving $1,300. The top 10 finishers will each receive a cash purse.

Entry fees for the tournament include a golf cart, merchandise, green fees and a ticket to the induction dinner on Friday, July 10, at 8 p.m. at the Holiday Inn Airport.

This year five individuals will be inducted into the National Black Golf Hall of Fame. Ray Booton of Charlotte, was an amateur player who sued the city of Charlotte to allow African Americans to gain access to the city's courses, Leonard Jones, of Dallas, Tex., was a leader in the African American golf community in Dallas. He is also a Class A member of the PGA and was inducted into the Prairie View A&M Sports Hall of Fame. Nick Gardner, of Baltimore, Md., won 25 tournaments as a professional player. He was a long-time golf pro at Carroll Park Golf Course. Richard Lewis, of Bartow, Fla., was a pioneer for African American golfers in Florida. He won the Jacksonville, Southeastern Golf championship twice.

Eddie Postell, of Lakeland, Fla., was also a pioneer in the sport for African Americans in Florida. He coached golf at Lakeland High for many years and was a promoter of junior golf. Several of his students went on to play on the PGA Tour.

Seven-time defending champion Hosiery opens with 18-0 win

Hanes Hosiery's 13-and-under baseball team, the seven-time defending champions in the Winston-Salem Recreation Department's summer league, is back at it again.

Ryan Basham fired a one-hitter and went 4-for-4 at the plate to lead Hanes Hosiery, and Billy Tolliver and Darryl Tuttle each went 4-for-4 with three RBIs to back him in an 18-0 victory over Martin Luther King Recreation Center last week.

Basham struck out seven batters and walked only one as the game was called after 4 1/2 innings of play. Hanes Hosiery Coach Art Blevins began substituting players in the second inning and played all 16 Hanes Hosiery players in the game.

Asa Beal also played well for Hanes Hosiery. Beal was 2-for-3 at the plate with a two-run triple.

Michael Widener, Billy Cole, Jared Sheets, Bernard Lyon, Tristian Martin, Andre Glenn, Mike Hannah, Bernard Hall and Dannielle Byers all contributed key plays in the victory.

Davis fires no-hitter to lead Hanes Hosiery 13-16 team to 14-0 victory

Hanes Hosiery's 13-16 year-old baseball team also started the season out strong. Rory Davis threw a no-hitter against Miller Park, striking out nine batters in a 14-0 win last week in the season opener.

The game lasted 5 1/2 innings through a light drizzle. Coach Art Blevins substituted freely, playing all 21 players available to him. Coach Paul Snyder of Miller Park did the same, but with not quite the same results. The two coaches agreed to stop keeping score after four innings and just let both teams have fun in the rain and make sure the players on both teams got a chance to bat.

The Hosiery "Hitmen" were too strong for the Miller Park team, jumping out to a 5-0 lead after two innings and then blowing open the game with a nine-run third inning. Steven Smith, Davis, Timmy Beal, John Fulp, Chris Williams, Frankie Beal and Jeremy Copeland all provided strong hitting as the Hosiery batted around on the Miller Park pitching staff.

Blevins took all of his starters out of the game, with the exception of Davis, who finished the game with his fourth-inning, no-hitter.

Hanes Hosiery has a bye this week and gets back into action on June 30.

Nelson named to replace Marcolina as CIAA business manager

Nicole Nelson has recently been named the business manager for the Central Intercollegiate Athletic Conference (CIAA). She will assume that position on July 1, 1999.

Nicole earned her MBA degree, with a dual focus on financial management and business law, in 1997 from Auburn University at Montgomery, where she also obtained her B.S. degree in business administration in 1996. She also attended the Primary Leadership Development Course at Fort Benning, Ga., where she was named a "Distinguished Honor Graduate" in 1991. In May 1990, Nelson completed her certification at the Advanced Administrative Specialist School in Fort Jackson, S.C.

Nelson's most recent career addition was finance division coordinator at the Lawrence Joel Veterans Memorial Coliseum in Winston-Salem. Prior to that, Nelson was credit manager/accounting supervisor for the Adam's Mark Hotel in Winston Plaza. She also served as the managing editor/advertising representative for the Aumnibus, the student newspaper of Auburn University at Montgomery and senior auditor/trainer/night manager at various hotels. Nelson has been a member of the American Business Women's Association (ABWA) since 1998, and is an active member of a number of business affiliations throughout the country.

Nelson replaces Martha Macolini, who served as business manager for the past nine years. Marcolini is currently the director of finance for the Lawrence Joel Veteran Memorial Coliseum in Winston-Salem.
